Is There a Doctor In the House? . . .

Shandaken Says 'Yes'

By HUGH REYNOLDS

PHOENICIA

There'll be a doctor in the house for Shandaken town this fall, thanks in part to concerted action by the town board and a search committee appointed by the board, but mostly, it appears, because of the town itself.

"He's been coming up here for years," said Councilwoman Marion Umhey. "He loves the area and he loves to hunt and fish."

Mrs. Umhey, who chaired the search committee which consisted of herself and Councilman Philip Gordon, was speaking of Dr. Dominick Scagnelli of Brooklyn, a general practioner who specializes in pediatrics, "just what the doctor ordered," according to Town Supervisor Raymond Dunn.

Dr. Scagnelli's ties with Shandaken go back many years. The Scagnelli family and the Guglielmetti family — the latter residents of Phoenicia for more than 50 years—have been long time friends and the Scagnelli's usually stay with the Guglielmetti's when they're "up in the mountains."

Mrs. Umhey, who came from Brooklyn 26 years ago, can also appreciate the other side of the situation. "I can understand why he'd want to move out of Brooklyn," Mrs. Umhey said. "It wasn't that good when I moved out and that was quite awhile ago. I don't blame him for wanting to get out."

Special

Shandaken won't be a "charity case" for the new physician. "Jack Reynolds (head of the county board of assessment) says Shandaken is the fastest growing town in the county," says Mrs. Umhey. "He (the doctor) can build up a nice practice and still have time to relax on the side."

There were other inducements, chief among them the free use of a $44,000 home with office on Mt. Marion Street just off Main Street in Phoenicia. "It's a real nice piece of property," says Supervisor Dunn of the seven-room frame house that was built in the late '50s.

Dr. Scagnelli will sign a one-year contract with the town, which voted to spend the $44,000 for his new home at its regular board meeting on Wednesday night.

"We've had problems with doctors coming in here before," explains Dunn. The town went as far as to build a clinic and stock it for a resident doctor. "They'd stay awhile and then take off for Kingston," Dunn said. "We've had four do that in the past few years."

Dr Scagnelli will also have use of the clinic if he wants it, although his home will come equipped with an office. He will live there rent free for a year—he'll have to pay utilities—and at the end of the year will be allowed to purchase the house for what the town paid for it —$44,000.

Dr. Scagnelli will fill a virtual vacuum in Shandaken where almost 3,000 persons rely on the part-time services of Dr. James (Elmer) Baker. Dr. Baker is almost 90 years old. He came to Shandaken 10 years ago to retire but was pressed into service by the town board.

Dr. Scagnelli at 54 isn't coming to Shandaken to retire. And Shandaken residents hope he'll be their country doctor for a good many years to come.

The physician is currently closing out his practice in Brooklyn and hopes to begin practicing in Shandaken by October. He and his wife are the parents of five sons, ranging in age from 16 to 28.

Turks Capture Town Prior to Cease-Fire

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Turkish forces took the key western town of Lefka today, completing their drive to slice off the northern third of Cyprus for a proposed autonomous Turkish state, the Turkish Cypriot radio reported.

The announcement came as a 6 p.m. - noon EDT - cease-fire ordered by Turkish Premier Bulent Ecevit was to go into effect. Official word was that the truce is being observed.

Turkish forces had already captured Famagusta, 35 miles east of the capital of Nicosia, and had been driving on Lefka, 30 miles west of the capital.

At the same time, Turkish air and artillery attacks forced the Cyprus government to abandon the capital and flee to the south coast port of Limassol

Cyprus President Glafcos Clerides and his ministers fled so hurriedly that the doors of the deserted presidential offices were left banging in the wind.

There was no evidence that any attempt had been made to remove files or other papers. The building was completely deserted.

Ecevit said the Turkish troops were expected to reach their "military objectives no later than the cease-fire hour."

The objectives apparently involve carving out a Turkish sector in the northern third of the island which would be cut off from the south by a line bisecting Cyprus from Lefka in the west to Famagusta in the east.

The Turkish troops already have taken Famagusta, and Ecevit's statement indicated that they expected to take Lefka too by the cease-fire deadline.

Meanwhile, the danger of war between Greece and Turkey lessened as Greek Premier Constantine Caramanlis said in a broadcast that the Greek army would not reinforce the Greek Cypriot troops because this would leave Greece defenseless.

Turkish tanks late Thursday afternoon rolled into Famagusta, the Mediterranean island's chief port. The action established a 35-mile line from the capital, Nicosia, to the east coast.

Associated Press Correspondent Peter Arnett reported that the Greek Cypriot national guard and police fled from the city, and the Greek Cypriot quarter was deserted. There was no opposition as Turkish troops moved from the Turkish Cypriot sector into the Greek quarter today.

The Turkish radio said the Turks also captured the naval base at Boghaz, 10 miles north of Famagusta.

Another Turkish column was pushing westward to extend the line from Nicosia to Lefka, on the northwest coast. It was reported six miles from Morphou, a major town 21 miles west of Nicosia and 10 miles from Lefka. The Turkish Cypriot radio reported Greek and Greek Cypriot troops were "retreating in panic" fom Lefka.

The Greek Cypriots were believed to have abandoned Morphou also.

Another Turkish Cypriot broadcast said Turkish jets were heavily bombing the highway from Paphos, in southwest Cyprus, to Lefka to prevent Greek Cypriot reinforcements from reaching Lefka.

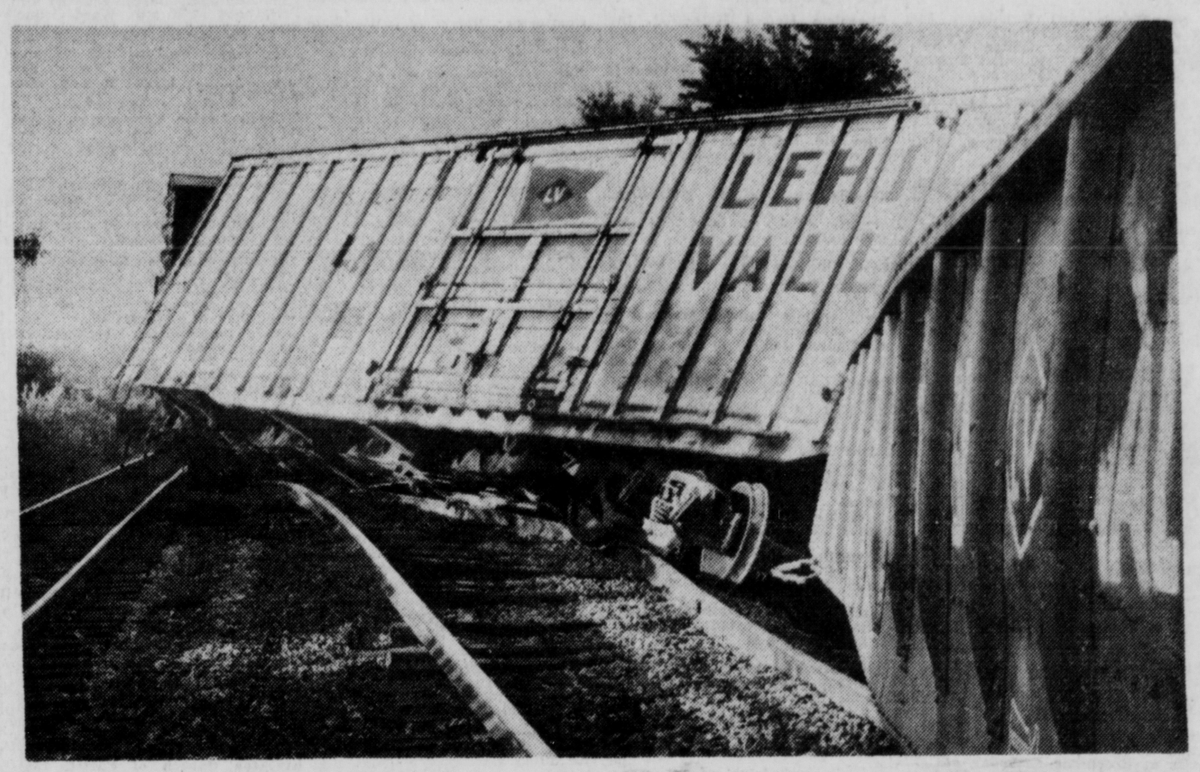

Turkish jets resumed bombing and strafing attacks around Nicosia at dawn for the third day, and there was little antiaircraft fire. The chief targets were the camp two miles west of the city of the 950-man Greek army contingent assigned to Cyprus, and a five-mile strip of factories on the eastern outskirts. However, the Turks made no attempt to advance into the Greek Cypriot sector.

The U.N. Security Council held two more meetings in New York and issued its fourth appeal for a ceasefire. President Ford urged immediate compliance.

In Ankara, Foreign Minister Turan Gunes said Turkey might accept appeals to reopen the Geneva negotiations "if we are accorded a more serious and responsive attitude."

Turkey walked out of the Geneva talks on Wednesday and resumed military action when the Greek Cypriots rejected a Turkish proposal for creation of six autonomous Turkish Cypriot enclaves scattered around the island.

The Turks made that proposal after the Greeks and Greek Cypriots rejected the first Turkish proposal for the division of Cyprus along the Lefka-Nicosia-Famagusta line into a federation of Greek and Turkish Cypriot states. Both proposals would have given the Turkish Cypriots about a third of the island's territory although they make up only about a fifth of the population.

GREENE COUNTY DERAILMENT—Eight cars of a Penn Central freight train derailed early Thursday near the Greene County village of Coxsackie, resulting in damage to about 200 feet of track. No injuries were reported. The train was northbound from New Jersey to the Selkirk yards near Albany at the time of the 5 a.m. derailment. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Another Episode in the Tape Saga

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An angry President Ford and Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski have blocked a move by Richard M. Nixon's lawyers to turn over the White House tapes to the former President.

White House officials, who declined to be identified for publication, indicated that Ford became upset when he learned that the lawyers, without Jaworski's approval, had ruled the tapes belonged to Nixon.

The officials said Ford fretted that his administration "was becoming tarnished" by the tapes issue and so, "he put his foot down and said 'I'm not going to have it.'"

Thus, in quick succession Thursday:

—Press Secretary J. F. terHorst announced that Nixon's White House counsel, J. Fred Buzhardt, who had participated in the informal ruling that the tapes belonged to Nixon, had tendered his resignation and Ford accepted.

—Jaworski's office said in a terse announcement that the White House had agreed to hold the remaining Nixon tapes and documents in its vaults while the issue was reviewed.

On Wednesday, Nixon's chief Watergate attorney, James St. Clair, who resigned that day, and Buzhardt ruled that the Nixon materials not yet subpoenaed and or made public were his own property, presumably to dispose of as Nixon wished.

That announcement, channeled through the White House press office, erroneously said the decision had the endorsement of the special prosecutor and the Justice Department.

Jaworski's Thursday announcement indicated this was not the case, and White House officials suggested privately that Ford had been angered by "all this revival of the tapes issue."

Ford instructed chief of staff Alexander M. Haig, himself a holdover, to get Buzhardt's resignation, the sources said, because Ford could no longer rely for legal advice on "Watergate holdovers who are just not believable anymore." He also ordered the White House to consult with Jaworski and the ensuing statement, issued by Jaworski's office, said:

Related stories and photo on page 3.

"Representatives of the White House and the special prosecutor met today to discuss the status of the tapes and documents of the administration of former President Nixon. "It has been agreed that none of the files will be moved pending further discussion and the special prosecutor's office is satisfied with these arrangements."

Meanwhile in Honolulu the American Bar Association has gone on record as opposing legal immunity for former President Richard M. Nixon.

On a voice vote and without debate the ABA's 340-member House of Delegates Thursday approved a resolution which outgoing ABA President Chesterfield Smith said resulted from disclosures about Nixon and Watergate.

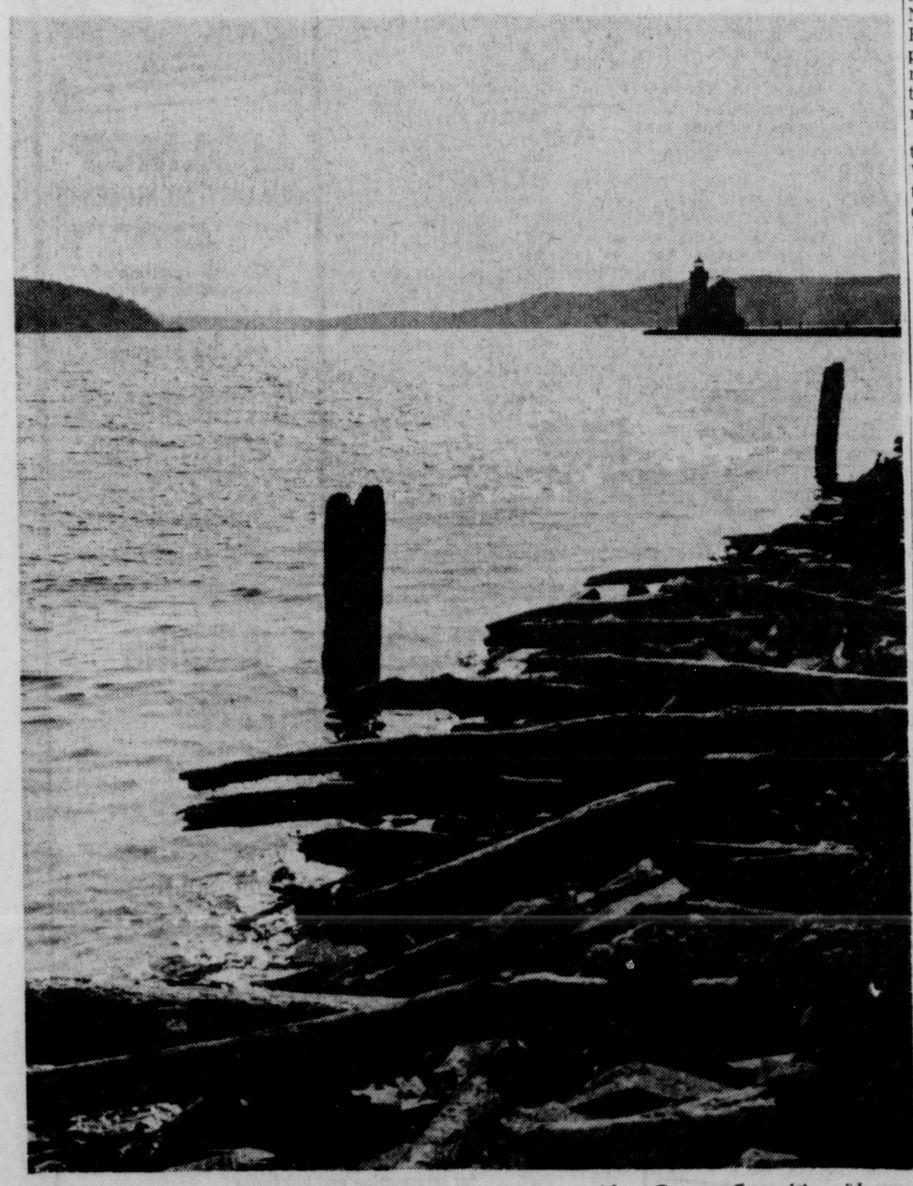

The resolution, substituted for two other stronger resolutions, said:

"Whereas, the foundation of the American system of law is equal justice under law ... be it resolved, that the American Bar Association continue its dedication to the principle of fair, just and impartial application and enforcement of the law regardless of the position or status of any individual alleged to have violated the law."

Smith had predicted that the House of Delegates would put the 185,000-member lawyer group on record through the Nixon legal immunity. But he said it was proper for the resolution not to mention anyone by name.

"Although it is aimed at the revelations about Nixon, it enunciates a general principle of law," he said.

A second Watergate-related resolution was also approved without debate. It stated that "all applicable disciplinary rules apply to lawyers at all times, whether or not acting in their professional capacity, and calls upon all attorneys engaged in political activity or policy-making positions in government to recognize and adhere to their professional ethical responsibilities."

$325,000 Suit Against Lloyd

By WADE BURKHART

LLOYD

Richard Nardone, a Highland attorney, and his wife Merry Lou have filed a notice of claim on behalf of themselves and their two children against the Town of Lloyd, seeking a total of $325,000 in damages for illness and injuries alleged to be the result of drinking and using contaminated water supplied by the town's water district.

The claim states that the the injuries occurred between May 20 and July 7, and that because of using the water "claimants became sick, sore, lame and disabled and among other things the claimants suffered severe cases of stomach cramps, pains in their abdomens, lower back pain, weakness, severe diarrhea and body aches and pain and became generally nauseous and sluggish."

Lloyd Supervisor Jon Decker and Thursday that the water had been sampled and tested, and that the results of the test had not yet reached him. He said that when the results did arrive, though, he was "confident" that the water would be shown to be "acceptable."

The Nardone claim says the water was "filled with rust dirt, and other sediment, bugs, bacteria and other foreign matter."

Nardone said Thursday that he had installed a water filter in his house, and that the filter had to be changed twice a week or the water could not be used for anything.

He said his family no longer used town water for drinking; the family now uses water from outside the township from the wells of friends, he said.

Decker, calling the water line the Nardones were on "an old stub line," said they were in an old system which could be subject to problems of turbidity. However, he said the problems were "more of an engineering than a health nature."

The claim against the town has been referred to the town's insurance carrier, Decker said, and he reserved further comment pending hearing from the carrier and receiving the results of the water tests.

The Nardone claim alleges that the injuries suffered by their two children, Richard David and Jorinda Suzanne, were permanent, and asks for $30,000 in damages in each child's behalf.

Nardone and his wife claim their injuries are also permanent, and will require further medical attention, and they are asking for $100,000 each.

The additional damages are asked for loss of companionship, ruined clothes, and spoiled food, all blamed on the water.

According to state law, a notice of claim must be filed against a municipality within 90 days of injury; a court suit can be instituted any time between 30 days after filing the claim and one year and 90 days after it was filed.

The claim was received by the town July 15.

City Police Investigate Shootings

Gunfire Shatters Morning Air

KINGSTON

A city police investigation was launched today into a shooting spree during the early morning hours in an area surrounding Forsyth Park during which a bank and numerous parked cars were fired upon and damaged.

The shots were apparently fired from a fast-moving car from what police have learned thus far.

The first report of gunshots being fired in the area reached police at 3:45 a.m. when a Howland Avenue resident called and told them he heard shots being fired in the vicinity of the J. Watson Bailey School.

The man told police the shots sounded like they were coming from a .22 caliber rifle.

Patrolmen were dispatched to the scene, but the culprits had apparently left the area, as officers found no one with a gun during their search. They did, however, find bullet holes in windows at the Rondout National Bank on Hurley Avenue.

No other reports of damage were received by police until about 8 a.m. today, when a resident of Hillcrest Gardens, off Millers Lane called and said her car had bullet holes in it.

Officers responding to the scene found residents lined up on the sidewalk on Millers Lane when they arrived.

Nine cars parked on Millers Lane had bullet holes in them. "They only missed one car in the whole line," a patrolman said. "Evidentally they were going too fast to hit it."

Each of the cars punctured by bullets was hit only once. One was struck in the trunk, and the remaining eight were hit in the left side.

Several spent .22 cartridges were found at the scene, and one resident told police he heard what he thought was a cap gun being fired at about 4 a.m. as well as "screaming and hollering." No one, however, apparently called police from a Millers Lane area.

The police investigation has so far failed to turn up anyone who reported seeing the vehicle reporterdly used in the shooting spree.

Police requested anyone with possible information about the incident to contact them at city police headquarters.

Suspicious Fires on Route 9

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y. (AP) — A beverage shop and a bakery were gutted early today by one of three suspicious fires that hit stores along a two-mile stretch of N.Y. 9, police said.

The fires appeared to be the work of an arsonist, officers said.

The most serious blaze engulfed the H&S Beverage store and the adjacent Charlotte's Bakery and Pastry Shop at the intersection of N.Y., 9 and N.Y. 9D.

Another store in the same group, the Ski and Sport Shop, sustained smoke and water damage.

Two other fires discovered earlier, one at the back of the Grand Union in Poughkeepsie Plaza and the other in back of Bradlee's department store, caused only minor damage.

Traffic along N.Y. 9 was tied up for about two hours as firemen fought the flames.

Episcopal Church Ruling

Women Denied Priesthood

CHICAGO (AP) — A ruling body of the Episcopal Church says 11 women ordained in a controversial ceremony about two weeks ago are not priests and may not perform priestly duties.

The interpretation of church doctrine came in the form of a resolution approved overwhelmingly Thursday by the House of Bishops at a two-day special session to consider the women's ordinations.

Charles V. Willie, vice president of the House of Deputies, the other branch of the church's legislative General Convention, called approval of the resolution "an exercise of male arrogance of the most blatant kind I have ever seen."

Willie also deplored the bishops' voice vote rejection of an amendment to the resolution which would have urged approval of women priests by the General Convention at its next meeting in two years.

"We are shocked and saddened," one of the women, Carter Heyward of New York City, said in a statement on behalf of her 10 colleagues.

"The fact that men could sit there and presume to make a decision affecting the vocations of women and not think it is prejudicial amazes me," she said. "I'm still a priest. There's no question about it in my mind."

She added: "Each of us will make her own decision as to how and when to affirm the priesthood she knows to be hers."

She declined to elaborate. Nine of the ordained women were present at various times during the meeting.

The resolution also decried the actions of four bishops involved in the ordination ceremonies in Philadelphia on July 29. However, the delegates dropped a separate action which could have led to the stripping of priestly orders of three of those who officiated. The fourth attended the ceremony but did not participate.

The Rt. Rev. John M. Allin, presiding bishop of the church, said the question was an internal matter and should not be interpreted by the secular world as one which restricts the freedom of women.

However, he said that any of the women who attempt to practice priestly duties, or any bishop who allows them to do so, is subject to discipline, including expulsion from the 3.2 million-member church, the American branch of the Anglican Church in England.

Burglaries Are Under Investigation

KINGSTON

Three burglaries in Kingston Thursday night or early today are under investigation by city detectives.

Authorities said some $700 in cash was reported missing Thursday night from an apartment belonging to David Mahoney of 352 Broadway.

Soda, beer, cash and cigarettes was reported taken overnight from Terri's Grocery, 56 Emerson Street, as thieves gained entrance through a rear door. The value of items taken was not immediately determined.

An undetermined amount of cash was reported missing from the White Eagle Hall, 487 Delaware Avenue, after thieves got in through a window.

Paltz Board ... Discussion

NEW PALTZ

Water was a topic of discussion at Wednesday night's regular meeting of the New Paltz Town Board.

Supervisor Theodore Lasher was authorized to sign an agreement with the village for town water supplies for the next five years. The agreement is similar to previous arrangements with the village which serves the town's two water districts.

There will be an informational hearing for proposed Water District No. 4, covering the Erman property north of the village and Fulton Town Houses behind Simmons Plaza. Town engineers will be on hand to give details at the Sept. 12 meeting in the town hall at 8 p.m.

A motion was made to contact the State Department of Transportation regarding speed limits on the soon to be completed Fulton Road and in the Cherry Hill Section. Town officials want lower speed limits than the 55 miles an hour authorized.

It was also reported that under a five-year road program, Shivertown Road and Butterville Road will be resurfaced this year.

It was also announced that a public hearing on a proposal to develop on the Ligitino Property off Plains Road will be held Sept. 11 at 7 p.m. in the town hall.

State Police Arrest Youth

CONNELLY

Highland State Police arrested an 18-year-old Connelly youth Thursday on a charge of third degree escape, stemming from a July 16 incident when he allegedly bolted from Esopus Town Police and escaped from the Esopus Town Hall.

The youth, Patrick Coffey, was arrested at his Connelly residence Thursday by police.

He is also wanted for being absent without leave from the U.S. Navy, according to police.

According to authorities, Coffey was arrested July 16 for obstructing governmental administration. He was taken to the Esopus Town Hall. While awaiting the arrival of Town Justice Andrew Aurigemma for arraignment Coffey, wearing handcuffs, fled out the back door of the Town Hall and disappeared.

Ironically, Coffey returned the handcuffs he had been wearing to authorities through an acquaintance, it has been learned.

Arraigned Thursday before Esopus Town Justice Robert Jordan, Coffey was confined in Ulster County Jail in lieu of $6,000 bail to await a reappearance in court Aug. 20.

Alma Subsides, Vigil Ends

MIAMI (UPI) — Alma, a killer tropical storm on Wednesday, subsided into mild squalls Thursday, and hurricane watchers ended their vigil.

The National Hurricane Center announced Thursday night that Alma, downgraded to a tropical depression earlier in the day, had dissipated further and there would be no further advisories on it unless it gains strength over the Caribbean Sea today.

Alma's 55 mile an hour winds abated to 30 miles an hour Thursday, slowed by the mountains of Venezuela and Colombia as it passed over the northern tip of South America.

Alma left hundreds homeless, trees uprooted and buildings unroofed as it passed over Venezuela's capital of Caracas, but there were no reports of widespread injury.

United States District Court
FOR THE
DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
vs.
JOHN M. MITCHELL, et al,

Cr. Case No. 74-110

To RICHARD M. NIXON
Presidential Compound
San Clemente, California

YOU ARE HEREBY COMMANDED to appear in the United States District Court for the District of Columbia in the city of Washington, D. C. on the 9th day of September, 1974, at 9:30 o'clock A. M. to testify on behalf of defendant John D. Ehrlichman in the above entitled action, and to remain until called in for trial of that cause, when called.

Attorney for Defendant Ehrlichman
66 W. Flagler Street
Miami, Florida 33130

By ... Deputy Clerk

THE NIXON SUBPOENA — Copy of the subpoena that was issued on Thursday for former President Richard Nixon to appear as a witness at the Watergate coverup trial by lawyers for his former aide, John D. Ehrlichman. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

'Witness and Mileage' Fees

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A U.S. District Court has sent a check for $302 in "witness and mileage" fees along with a subpoena commanding Richard M. Nixon, private citizen, to testify in court about his actions as President.

The subpoena, issued by lawyers for John D. Ehrlichman, once Nixon's No. 2 aide and now a Watergate cover-up defendant, was addressed to "Presidential Compound, San Clemente, Calif." It tell Nixon, "You are hereby commanded to appear" in court the morning of Sept. 9 for the start of the trial.

There was no word from Nixon's aides whether he would fight the subpoena now that he has no executive privilege, but Nixon probably won't have to address the question by Sept. 9.

Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski Thursday agreed with requests by four of the six defendants for a delay in the trial, and U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica scheduled a hearing on the issue for Monday. Sirica has previously indicated he wants the trial to go on as scheduled.

Former Assistant Attorney General Robert C. Mardian Thursday became the fourth defendant to ask for a delay on grounds of recent publicity. The others are Ehrlichman, former Nixon chief of staff H. R. Haldeman and former Attorney General John N. Mitchell.

For the first time in the pretrial proceedings, Jaworski agreed that a "reasonable" delay is warranted. He said, however, that publicity is not the factor, but that "intervening circumstances affecting the trial preparation of all parties" warrant postponement.

Those intervening circumstances, Jaworski said, were Nixon's surrender of 55 more of his Watergate tapes under order of the Supreme Court.

Jaworski said his staff needs time to study them once they are received from the court.

"It seems only fair that the defendants be afforded a reasonable opportunity to listen to the tapes, verify the accuracy of the government's transcripts and integrate this new material into their trial strategy," Jaworski said.

Defendant Kenneth Wells Parkinson, former lawyer for the Commitee to Re-elect the President has opposed any delay and wants a separate trial. The sixth defendant Gordon C. Strachan who was Haldeman's political liaison with CRP, has not yet taken any position.

A Delay for Ehrlichman

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — John Ehrlichman, former top aide to ex-President Nixon, argued Thursday that his trial on a perjury charge subjects him to double jeopardy, since he has already been convicted of a related charge in federal court in Washington.

The start of his trial was postponed until at least Jan. 6, to take place after the Watergate cover-up trial in Washington, in which he is also a defendant.

Ehrlichman was convicted of perjury for lying to a federal grand jury about his knowledge of the Ellsberg burglary by the White House "plumbers." U.S. District Court Judge John Sirica sentenced him to 20 months to five years in prison.

The perjury charge against Ehrlichman here — for allegedly lying to a county grand jury about his knowledge of the breakin — is all that remains of charges of burglary and conspiracy against Ehrlichman, and White House aides G. Gordon Liddy, Egil "Bud" Krogh and David Young.

The charges were brought in the break-in at the Beverly Hills office of a psychiatrist, Dr. Lewis Fielding, in an effort to photograph the records of Daniel Ellsberg, who leaked the Pentagon Papers.

All the local charges were dropped, except for Ehrlichman's perjury count, when the Watergate special prosecutor brought federal charges against the men for the same incident.

"We feel the verdicts (against Ehrlichman) in the federal court trial effectively bars prosecution in the case here in Los Angeles" because the charges deal with essentially the same offense, argued Ehrlichman's lawyer, Douglas Dalton.

Auto Production Threatened

By United Press International

Auto workers faced layoffs as two non-industry strikes threatened to halt auto production, grocery stores were closed for lack of groceries and buses continued across the country.

General Motors Corp., faced with strikes at two of its assembly plants, also was hard hit by strikes at Briggs & Stratton Corp., and the A. O. Smith Corp., both in Milwaukee, Wis.

Briggs & Stratton manufactures locks and A.O. Smith suspension parts.

The automaker laid off 4,300 hourly workers at its Indianapolis, Ind., Chevrolet plant today. Another 1,500 workers at its Framingham, Mass., auto plant and 4,800 at its Flint, Mich., truck plant also will be idled, though many will find work on car assembly lines and avoid being laid off, GM said.

A spokesman for American Motors Corp., the smallest of the nation's automakers, said its production could be halted by Aug. 26 if the strikes are not settled quickly.

Production at Chrysler and Ford also may be affected by the strikes.

Agreement was reached Thursday night on the 15-day strike by some 2,500 iron miners against Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. Details of the pact, which covers miners at three northern Michigan plants and one Minnesota plant were not immediately released.

A walkout by butchers, cashiers and stock clerks in the New York city and northern New Jersey A&P food stores entered its sixth day today. Many of the food chain's 550 stores in the area have been forced to close.

In Oakland, Calif., negotiators met with little success in an effort to end a 47-day-old strike which has halted AC Transit buses, affecting thousands of commuters. A state conciliator said the talks recessed "not on an encouraging note."

The National Association of Letter Carriers, at its annual convention in Seattle, Wash., Thursday threatened a possible illegal strike, if the Postal Service goes through with proposed changes in job requirements for those delivering mail.

The world's largest grain milling center, at Buffalo, N.Y., was expected to begin a gradual shutdown today as mills run out of grain because of a strike by 200 workers at six waterfront elevators.

As many as 1,300 other workers could be affected.

Park Shortens Mourning Period

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korean President Park Chung-hee asked his cabinet today to shorten the period of mourning for his wife, killed by an assassin's bullet meant for him, because of "busy state affairs."

The 57-year-old Park ducked Thursday when the assassin started shooting, but his wife and a 17-year-old girl were killed while he gave a televised speech at the National Theater.

The cabinet proclaimed five days of official mourning and decided to move up the date of Mrs. Park's funeral from Wednesday to Monday in deference to Park's wishes to get on with official business.

"The decision was made after the president personally asked that the mourning period for the First Lady be shortened in view of busy state affairs," a cabinet spokesman said.

The 49-year-old Mrs. Park was struck on the head by the second of four bullets fired by a gunman who was later wounded in the thigh by Park's security agents. She died 8½ hours later, after surgery.

Park, who recently has come under wide criticism from students and clerics for authoritarian policies, showed his determination to keep up a business-first appearance by completing his speech after the shooting incident.

He received a standing ovation from the 2,500 persons gathered to hear his talk commemorating Korea's liberation from Japan at the end of World War II.

Although the gunman was initially identified as a Japanese, authorities later said he was a Korean national who had been living in Japan.

Japanese police identified him as Moon Sae-kwang, 22, a member of an anti-Park youth group who was traveling under a forged passport in the name of Yukio Yoshii.

Mrs. Park, who met her husband in 1950 when he was a 33-year-old lieutenant colonel, tried to set a public example as a shy, unassuming obedient wife and called herself "a bride supervised by the whole nation."

She once called herself "a public servant who has to serve the public without pay." Park once jokingly referred to her as "the opposition in the Blue house."

Sheriff's Department Controversy . . . Two Views

KINGSTON

Offering diversified opinions on the current controversy surrounding the Ulster County Sheriff's Department, a former first sergeant with the department has issued a press release blasting Sheriff William B. Martin, and a current deputy has come out in defense of the sheriff.

Referring to Martin's most recent press release, Ray Davis, former first sergeant with the Sheriff's Department, said that "The amazing attempt of the present sheriff to rewrite history with a bucket of whitewash has again demonstrated his total inability to understand the needs of the Ulster County community."

"The sheriff's Charley McCarthy cue card prepared text is in the worst tradition of manipulated news," Davis said.

"After stumbling over his prepared recital it must be apparent to the residents of Ulster County that the sheriff is incapable of responding to a stand up question and answer session. This unfortunate performance must cast grave doubts on his ability to withstand the continued pressures of his high office," he continued.

"The embarrassing public disclosure of the sheriff's one Paltz is being whitewashed away with the amazing statement that it was all for the poor deputies association . . . six years before the association was formed," Davis said, adding ". . . A remarkable crystal signature bank account in New ball performance by the 'never available' Ulster County Sheriff."

"His tragic 'before election' attempt to blame his staff, guards, deputies and undersheriff for his own noticeable shortcomings is another shocking indication that the present sheriff is existing in an Alice in Wonderland world of complete unreality," Davis concluded.

Deputy Sheriff Lance Sussin offered a different viewpoint, saying "I know Sheriff Martin to be an honest, loyal and dedicated police officer. The truth is that he is doing everything in his power to operate the jail by required standards, but his hands are tied to the extent that he is unable to hire enough help to operate the jail. The county does not allow adequate wage scales and limits budget allowances."

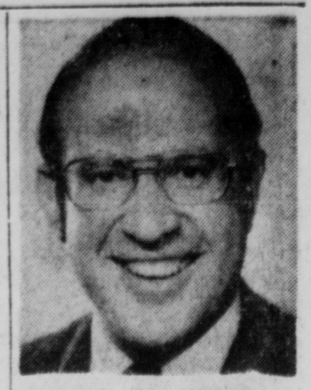

"It is true that many of the men are not trained properly," Sussin continued, "but he (Martin) can't send men away to schools to be trained and not have help to work the jail."

According to Sussin, "Reports have read that the Sheriff should pay his men more money and that he has been given 12 new appointments for deputies after requesting 25. However, the Sheriff does not pay his men, the county does. I am an appointed deputy sheriff. I have been with the Sheriff's Department 2½ years. My salary is $6,613 a year. A part-time deputy makes $2.90 and hour, works 40 hours a week, and has no benefits whatever. The truth is that Sheriff Martin has done nothing wrong to his standards in trying to operate the Ulster County Sheriff's Department the way I see it."

Sussin continued: " . . . It has never been brought out into the open about what the deputies face during a working day. The public is told only that things aren't being run right and inmates have no rights. Acutally we have put up with being spit on by inmates, on occasions being punched in the mouth, having trays of food thrown on us, having threats made to us and our families, and a few deputies going to the hospital because of being injured on duty by inmates. The fact is they treat us like we're animals."

Sussin also said inmates complain about their medication because they are required to take it in front of deputies.

"Speaking for myself, I am proud to be a deputy sheriff of this county," Sussin concluded.

New York City Man Faces 15 Years in Prison

KINGSTON

William Dueno, 21-year old New York City man, who pleaded guilty in June in the strangling death of a 37-year old Bronx woman last August in Plattekill, was sentenced in Ulster County Court Thursday to an indeterminate sentence with a maximum of 15 years in the Clinton Correctional Facility at Dannemora.

Counsel for Dueno, Robert Ricken, said he would appeal the sentence. He could have received as much as 25 years in jail.

Prior to sentencing Ricken disclosed that Dueno was recently released from Benedictine Hospital where he was taken after swallowing a razor blade at Ulster County Jail a few weeks ago. Ricken said the blade is still in Dueno's system and there is a possibility that an operation will have to be performed. He said that if Judge Raymond J. Mino sentenced Dueno immediately, he would like some assurance that the defendant will receive adequate medical care Ricken said that when Dueno was released from the hospital last Friday and returned to jail. He then put his name on the sick list but has not seen a doctor since.

Judge Mino assured Ricken that whereever Dueno is incarcerated he will receive medical care when needed.

Ricken pleaded for some lieniency for Dueno claiming that although he attacked the woman, "he did not intend to cause her death."

Dueno was indicted by the Ulster County Grand Jury for murder and a jury was picked for his trial in early June. Before jury selection was complete, Dueno entered a plea of guilty to manslaughter in the first degree.

He was accused of allegedly strangling Consuelo Norma Reyes last August near a Plattekill resort the two were visiting.

Judge Mino also sentenced Joseph Thomas Miller, 37, of Clintondale to one year in Ulster County Jail with credit for the five and one-half months he has been incarcerated. Miller was indicted for sodomy in the first degree, two counts, in connection with an alleged incident involving a five-year old boy which took place Feb. 28 in Clintondale.

Counsel for Miller Albert Mainetti pointed to the fact that until the incident, Miller had a clean record since he was 16. He suggested that he would benefit from psychiatric care ad speculated that, if released, he would probably get his old job back.

A $100 fine was leveled at Bruce Long, 24, of Church Street, Mexico, N.Y., who was indicted Aug. 10, 1971 for possession of dangerous drugs in the second, third and sixth degrees including hashish and marijuana.

A probationary sentence of five years was given to John Richard Lennon 19, of South Floral Park, L.I., who allegedly set fire to the Rocking Horse Ranch in Highland where he worked on Nov. 14, 1971. Lennon, who pleaded guilty in mid-June to arson in the fourth degree, could have been sentenced to up to four years in priosn.

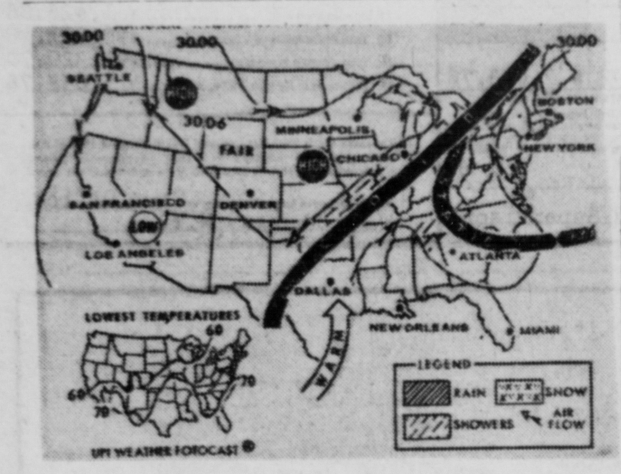

In passing the probationary sentence, Judge Mino said it was with the provision that Lennon obtain psychiatric help.

Another case involving a 68-year old Tillson man, indicted for criminally negligent homicide in connection with the automobile deaths of two Tillson teenagers last May, was adjourned until Aug. 29.

Grover F. Dunn of Box 888, Tillson, was arrested at the time of the early morning accident on Route 32 and charged with driving while intoxicated. Killed in the accident were Thomas J. Conroy, 19 and Gary Wright, 18.

Dunn's counsel Philip Schunk enterd a plea of innocent in behalf of his client and asked for the adjournament in order to address motions to the court.

Judge Mino set Sept. 3 as the date for trial of Randy Paul Coffey, of Port Ewen on one of the many charges against him including alleged robbery, burglary, arson and sodomy.

Candidate Schedules Bike Tour

OWEGO — Carl Saddlemire, Republican candidate for Congress in the 27th District will take a bicycle tour of the district traveling about 250 miles from Ithaca to New Paltz between Aug. 19 and 28.

Saddlemire expects to travel Aug. 27 from Woodbourne to Kerhonkson via Dairyland, Greenfield Park, Ellenville, Napanoch and Wawarsing.

The following day he will tour from Kerhonkson to New Paltz via Accord, High Falls, Rosendale and Tillson. He said that this part of his trip will go north of the district because "the mountain between Kerhonkson and New Paltz is straight up for 10 miles and then straight down the rest of the way!"

He said he is using a bike campaign because it is "the most effective way to conduct my type of person-to-person campaign.

"I'll be at the people's level, where they can see me, ask questions and understand my views on national issues. I have already ridden my bicycle over 300 miles on the campaign trail, and I know how effective this technique can be," he stated.

His lifelong devotion to the environment causes him to adopt this noiseless, pollution-free method of transportation as a symbolic gesture consistent with his self-imposed $2,000 campaign spending limit, he said.

"The 27th Congressional District has to be one of the most beautiful ever devised by nature and the State Legislature," he said. "I fear that the legislature's role was somewhat inadvertent, but nature certainly put her heart and soul into it. From Cayuga Lake to the Hudson, with the Susquehanna, Chemung, Chenango and Delaware in-between, from the rolling hills of my native Tioga County to the Catskills — the vistas are breathtaking, and the protection of this priceless natural heritage should have a high priority."

Saddlemire also advocates the adoption of a national commitment to the solution of our long-range energy problems.

"We'd better get cracking on our energy problems pretty quickly, or we all may be forced to ride bicycles," he warned.

"Finally, I like to ride a bicycle and I like to talk to people and listen to their ideas. I love this beautiful country and the people in it. I don't regard this trip as a lot of back-breaking hard labor — I look forward to it as a glorious working vacation," he concluded.

BLA Leader Shot by Guard

NEW YORK (UPI) — Reputed Black Liberation Army leader Henry Brown, who has told police they "can't stop" him from breaking out of prison, was shot by a guard after he and two other alleged members of the group overpowered two guards at the Brooklyn House of Detention Thursday.

Brown, 25, Melvin Kearney, 23, and Pedro Monges, 25 were captured by correction officers shortly after they managed to free themselves from handcuffs and overpower two guards accompanying them back from court appearances.

According to a Corrections Department spokesman, all three bounded across the jail yard to a 30-foot-high chain-link fence, where Brown and Monges climbed to the top under a hail of bullets fired by officer Alexander Arrighi.

Brown was grazed in the right shoulder and fell back into the yard with Kearny. Both men gave up. Brown was treated at the facility for the wound. Kearny was not hit.

Monges made it over the fence and an adjoining stone wall, jumped to a street below, and ran off pursued by dozens of corrections officers who were in the neighborhood to pick up their pay checks.

He was captured a few blocks away.

The incident was the latest in a series of escape attempts in the last year by Brown, who told police, "I will escape, you can't stop me."

Piggy-Back Highwire Act

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (UPI) — Philippe Petit might be a step closer to making his highwire walk above Niagara Falls.

But Petit might have also picked up a piggy-back passenger for the tightrope performance.

A Canadian businessman Thursday suggested that the French aerialist make his walk above the falls from private property. Albert Watson, whose firm owns the Skylon Tower, said the company has offered Petit use of its Canadian property overlooking the falls to anchor one end of his tightrope for the walk across the falls.

"It seems to me that if Petit can find private property on the falls that he counld anchor the United States side close to the end there and no permission would be required from the local government authorities," Watson said.

That governmental permission this week became the major stumbling block between Petit and his lifelong dream of walking on a highwire above the falls. After warming up for such a walk with a 1,350 foot highwire performance above the streets of Manhattan, Petit visited the falls for the first time this week.

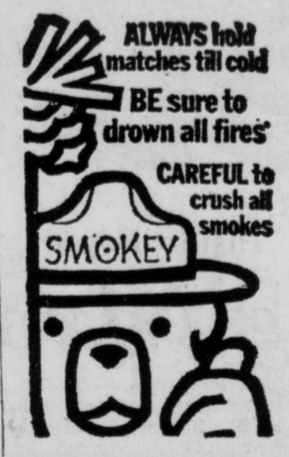

But he was told by government officials that he would need the approval of U.S. and Canadian authorities before he could make his walk. And a government spokesman said the official policy in the past has been not to be part of "suicide."

Watson criticized government officials for their "myopic thinking" regarding Petits' proposal. He said his company views the walk as a "refreshing and welcome proposal that will only add to the popularity of Niagara Falls as a unique place to visit."

Watson said his company is so enthused about Petit's project that Byron Cox, the firm's public relations director, has volunteered to be carried on the diminutive aerialist's back during the crossing.

Such a performance would be reminiscent of the highwire walk of Blondin just downstream from Niagara Falls more than a century ago. As he crossed the tightrope, Blondin carried his manager on his back.

Watson said Cox and the company are already working on getting Cox insured for making the piggy-back crossing. "We wouldn't go to all this trouble unless we were serious," he said.

WONDERFUL WORLD OF FASHION

Director William J. Dwyer (left) and Board Chairman James A. Dwyer as they observe fiftieth anniversary.

A century of service in 50 years.

Board Chairman James A. Dwyer and Director William J. Dwyer, their service as Directors dating back to the first term of President Calvin Coolidge, are each observing 50 years' service with Rondout National Bank.

In 1924, the late James F. Dwyer, father of James A. and William J. Dwyer, became President of the Rondout National Bank and his sons started their long tenure as Directors. The Dwyers recall that at that time, the Rondout National Bank consisted of one office on East Strand, Kingston, and total assets of $1,400,000.

In 1943, James A. Dwyer became President of the bank. Ten years later in 1953, when the bank moved to its present headquarters at Broadway and Henry Street in Kingston, total resources of the bank were $4 million.

Today the bank consists of six offices, serving most of Ulster County, and $32 million in assets.

These two Directors through their wisdom, have played a large part in the growth of the bank and the prudent management of its assets. As a locally owned, full service bank, Rondout National Bank is managed by local business and professional men, such as the Dwyers, for the benefit of the people of Ulster County.

As the Dwyers begin their second century of service, they wish to thank the thousands of people who have patronized the bank. They and the other Directors pledge to continue the bank's tradition of providing a full complement of personal banking services.

Sense of Involvement

The underlying theme of President Ford's address to a joint session of Congress was expressed in his plea to the assembled lawmakers "to join with me in getting this country revved up and moving." This exhortation couched in the idiom of the auto industry which flourishes in Mr. Ford's home state, embodies related concepts which already have become the hallmark of the new administration. These concepts are that after the "national nightmare" of which the President spoke earlier there must be both a new national impetus and revitalized cooperation in pursuit of common purposes.

An allied theme was that these undertakings are the concern not merely of Congress and the President, but of the American people as a whole. "I am the people's man," said Mr. Ford; "I accepted and begin my new and solemn trust with a promise to serve all the people . . ." At another point he told his former legislative colleagues that, while he intended to listen to them, "I also intend to listen to the people themselves—all the people . . ." I want to be sure we are all tuned in to the real voice of America."

That is something to be taken for granted, perhaps. Yet after an administration whose leader seemed to be growing more and more insulated from the public it is good to have this essential element of rapport between the people and the chief executive reaffirmed.

We have dealt at such length with this aspect of the President's address because this is really what it was all about. His plain intent was to rally the country, to give us all a sense of involvement in dealing with the nation's problems. The substance of the address contained no surprises no startling pronouncements. The nearest thing to that — and it was not really surprising, though gratifying — was Mr. Ford's on-the-spot agreement to Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield's suggestion that the White House convene a broadly based national leadership conference to tackle economic problems.

These problems were the central focus of President Ford's remarks, though he did touch upon foreign affairs and numerous other matters. As some of his listeners were quick to point out, he set forth a rather simplistic anti-inflation formula; much more than budget cutting is required.

Having said this, one comes back to the tone of the President's address and to his call for "reasonable compromise" to deal with our pressing economic problems. If both he and Congress take that injunction seriously, maybe that "bipartisan action plan to stability and growth in the American economy" of which he spoke can be formulated and set in motion. As we make a new start, this is the effort that must be given the highest priority.

The Weather Factor

The chancy impact of weather conditions on crop production is being more harshly illustrated than usual this year. Though some sections of the Midwestern grain belt have now received drought-breaking rainfall, the outcome for many farmers remains in doubt. Much depends on whether the rains and accompanying cooler temperatures continue long enough to revive stricken crops.

Department of Agriculture officials are still singing their optimistic theme song. They note that whereas almost total crop losses are reported in some areas, others still expect record yields. They warn repeatedly against "alarmist reports." Their thesis is that things could be much worse.

This is evident, but not very consoling. Even if weather conditions from now on are such as to bring maximum possible recovery of damaged crops—and that is not something to count on—prospective losses appear almost certain to contribute to inflationary pressures.

That is going to complicate the new administration's problems as the fight against inflation goes on. The concerted efforts of President Ford and his advisors on the one hand and Congress on the other will come up against a tough reality: other causes of inflation are being augmented in some measure by uncooperative natural forces.

The change of administrations will have a significant bearing on the anti-inflation battle; it may provide new impetus, and in any case there will be less preoccupation with other concerns. But as Labert H. Cox Jr. of the economic research firm, Lionel D. Edie and Co., says in a current forecast, "the drought in the Midwest probably has far greater implications for the economic outlook over the next year or so." The weather in agricultural regions continues to be a crucially important factor to be reckoned with.

Ford Seeks Data on Rocky Link

By JACK ANDERSON

WASHINGTON — President Gerald Ford has been searching for seven elusive boxes of Watergate documents which he fears may contain damaging information about former Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

Until a few weeks ago, it appeared certain the boxes had been burned on orders of Nixon campaign aides prior to the 1972 presidential elections. But during the past week, as Ford mulled over his choice for the vice presidency, his "transitior team" quietly sought the missing cartons.

Their purpose: to make absolutely sure tha there is no Agnew scandal in Ford's future.

According to sworn testimony the boxes, containing an estimated 7,000 documents, were destroyed. But new reports suggest they may have been cached instead in a locked valut. The reports are now considered firm enough to have brought the special Watergate prosecutor into the probe.

The hearsay evidence in their possession, which is similar to that reaching Ford, is that Rockefeller helped bankroll a standby team of Nixon toughs for the 1972 Democratic convention. The ex-New York governor's office had denied the charge as "absolutely untrue" and offered to open the campaign books to prove it is false.

The boxes, once in the custody of Watergate conspirator E. Howard Hunt, were hauled away by a Nixon loyalist named Roy Sheppard after the Watergate break-in of June 1972.

In August 1972, we came within an ace of getting them through Sheppard's lawyer, who was troubled about their hidden secrets.

But Sheppard adamantly refused to give them up. He later testified that he had burned them in his furnace on orders of Nixon campaign aides. There the matter stood until a month ago.

At that time, we received reports that Sheppard had not burned the papers and once again we tried to find them. Ford's "transition team" also heard of the documents and assigned a crack lawyer to track them down.

The lawyer worked through last weekend chasing clues. He satisfied himself there was at least a slim chance the boxes exist, although neither he nor anyone else was sure what they might contain. Acting on White House orders, the lawyer immediately turned his clues over to assistant special prosecutor Richard Ben-Veniste, who quickly re-opened the investigation. Ben-Veniste has now been given the name of the town where the boxes are supposedly located. He also has clues to the identification of the alleged custodian of the boxes, provided by one of Sheppard's friends, Hal O'Brien.

At O'Brien's urging, we have learned, the special prosecutor intends to give Sheppard immunity from prosecution if the boxes are found intact.

Footnote: Actually, the special prosecutor is not as interested in the Rockefeller material as he is in other rumored contents of the boxes. Reportedly, there is evidence of Mafia campaign influence and answers to other unresolved Watergate questions. Sheppard, when asked about the boxes by my associate Les Whitten, said, "I don't know what you're talking about."

FIREARMS FRACAS: The Treasury Department's firearm regulators got caught with their powder wet by Rep. Mike Harrington, D-Mass.

Harrington, who wants to ban all private handguns, accused Treasury's Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms of using faulty figures to show that 70 per cent of pistols used by criminals are cheap "Saturday Night Specials."

This figure plays right into the hands of the big domestic gun manufacturers who want the public to believe that costlier weapons aren't often used in crimes. Exactly the opposite is true.

Harrington complained to the bureau's director, Rex Davis, that such phony figures make it look like banning Saturday Night Specials will end the slaughter on America's streets. Davis promised to "re-examine the figures."

Actually, the figures were known to be wrong from the start, as we now know from a secret memo directly from the bureau's own files.

"If you will but recall," wrote Davis' deputy, William Thompson, to the bureau's public affairs chief, Warren McConnell, "I challenged the process by which (the figures) were reached at the time."

The statistics, wrote Thompson, contained "Built-in errors (and) items which are inaccurate or incorrect," the report "does a disservice to the bureau as well as to the public," he snapped.

"It gives me no pleasure to say, 'I told you so,' " wrote Thompson. "Quite the contrary, I hope that we will be able to prove our figures . . . are very nearly perfect."

But, Thompson concluded, "the hastily taken shortcut has . . . cast doubt upon our credibility." Meanwhile, Director Davis, unaware that Harrington already has the secret memo, has written it will be "about two weeks" before he can fully answer Harrington.

POAGE PRESSURE: Autocratic House Agriculture Chairman Bob Poage, D-Tex., is privately pressuring members of the Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee to gut two bills protecting streams and wetlands.

Poage wants to open up 150,000 miles of waterways to the bulldozers so his fatcat farmer and land developer friends can get rich. The taxpayer would foot the bill for the destruction of marsh, streams and rivers where wildlife and fish have been breeding for centuries.

A Phoenix Rising?

Inside Report

Ending Nixon Era

By ROWLAND EVANS and ROBERT NOVAK

WASHINGTON — A dramatic shift from the Nixon era of exclusionary politics to an "open door" Ford administration is now being plotted by Gerald Ford's intimates with this symbolic capstone: an offer to Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of a major post in the Ford administration.

Humphrey, the 1968 Democratic presidential nominee, is perceived by some of President Ford's key advisors as the best possible Democrat for inclusion in Ford's new-style government. That new style will emphasize an open White House door, genuine bipartisanship in foreign policy and reconciliation within the Republican party.

This is a death sentence for the royal attributes of the Nixon era with pervasive Oval Office political dominance and remoteness from both Republicans and Democrats on Capital Hill. An offer to old pro Democrat Humphrey, moved by time and events to the deep center from the outer left wing of his party, is seen by some Ford operatives as the obvious catalyst for reconciliation even if he turned down the offer.

The new style in politics would be summed up by President Ford's offer of the vice presidency to Nelson A. Rockefeller. As perceived by long time Ford ally Melvin R. Laird and other centrist Republicanleaders, nominating the world-famous Rockefeller would achieve notable objectives: reassurance to foreign countries; restoration of a truly national Republican party with an anchor in the liberal Northeast for the first time since 1964; finessing the Ford succession problem (Rockefeller, 66, would be too old to run for President in 1980).

Rockefeller advocates, including Laird, advance one other major asset: Rockefeller and his vast political and financial resources could tap valuable new talent to a corrupted national government which has become the target of cynical sneers.

Ford's own staff is small and obviously inexperienced in the business of running the country. Now being eyed as high-level operatives in the Ford White House are a handful of experienced Republicans who, one way or another, ran afoul of the Nixon Berlin wall.

One is Robert Ellsworth, the former Kansas Congressman who was hounded off the White House staff in 1969 by H. R. Haldeman and only recently returned to Washington as Assistant Secretary of Defense for international security affairs; he may be brought back into a top job in the Ford White House, perhaps as director of the Office of Management and Budget (OMB). Other being eyed for top posts are former Sen. Charles Goodell of New York, whose campaign for reelection was sabotaged by the Nixon Oval Office, and Donald Rumsfeld (now U.S. Ambassador to NATO) who as a presidential counselor had his troubles with the Haldeman-Ehrlichman clique.

Secretary of the Interior Rogers Morton is a strong possibility for White House chief of staff. He never has fitted emotionally into the weird political world of Richard Nixon. Effectively sidelined by the Oval Office, he is Ford's close ally.

The major objective of Ford's political friends now pressing for such sweeping changes is psychological: to end the Nixon era not with a whimper but with a bang. Each of these moves is designed to rehabilitate and broaden the dangerously weakened Republican party and at the same time strengthen Ford's posture as a national leader by giving him, at least for the first two years, a leading Democratic ally in government.

Nobody knows whether Ford will go this far. Stone-age conservative Republicans, for example, are irrevocably opposed to Rockefeller.

On Monday night at the Republican Capitol Hill Club, a small group of conservative Congressmen swore to oppose Rockefeller and vote against his confirmation. The principal reason: Rockefeller's refusal to support Barry Goldwater as nominee in 1964. They flatly discount Rockefeller's conspicuous rightward move the past few years as a futile effort to appease the conservatives and are insisting on Gov. Ronald Reagan of California.

But anti-Rockefeller animus is neither deep nor widespread. Clarke Reed, right-wing Mississippi Republican chairman and one of the party's top Dixie operatives, told us Rockefeller would be "acceptable" (though he much prefers a conservative).

Hard-line Republicans oppose more than Rockefeller. They want cosmetic rather than dramatic political change between the Nixon and Ford eras, risking an ever-shrinking Republican party. Ford's more pragmatic advisors, led by Laird, have not only the better argument but the inside track today.

The Second Longest Flight

EN ROUTE LONDON-MIAMI — Chip Bowes runs a taut ship. The 747 staggers halfway to the head of the runway at Heathrow when a phone message comes up from the deck below that an oxygen bottle is showing a red light. C. T. Bowes Jr., sends the engineer below to correct the problem.

The bottle's function is to inflate a rubber chute so passengers can slide to the ground in case of a landing mishap. It isn't important. Excuse me — it is. Bowes asks permission for National Airlines Flight One to return to its berth. The bottle will work or we don't fly.

First Officer Jack Kearns radios to have mechanics ready. The safety of passengers, and a $20 million plane, is the one thing no captain on any airline will leave to chance.

The 340 passengers on the deck below grumble. They can see we have turned, rumbling back to our station. Men in white coveralls hop aboard. Bowes, a man of little patience, taps his fingers on the yoke.

He shuts two engines down. The little red light goes green. A rubber washer under the oxygen bottle had tilted it. That's all. Cost: 500 gallons of fuel.

The only flight longer than this is British Airways nonstop London to Capetown. Normally, this one to Miami would be 4,647 miles. There is a 140 mile an hour jetstream racing from America to Europe. It would cut our speed from 590 miles per hour to 450.

Kearns, a tall man with dark wavy hair, crouches in the first officer's seat like a jockey and reads the computer printout again. It advises Flight One to fly from London northeast — northeast? — to Liverpool, over the Irish Sea and the Isle of Man, to Belfast, farther north to 59 degree latitude within sight of Greenland, then turn southwest to Goose Bay, Labrador. Then on to Quebec, south to New York City, then to Norfolk, Wilmington, North Carolina, and on to Miami, Florida. Total distance: 5,000 miles. Elapsed time: 9 hours, 10 minutes.

The 747 weighs 350 tons today. I sit behind the captain in the jump seat. I have a Federal Aviation Administration certificate that gives me the right to buy a seat and, at the captain's discretion, to sit in the flight deck.

I am a child; an old airplane watcher. I wear a headset and listen to traffic. The four big engines work a whine to a shriek, then the brakes go off. Bowes keeps her to the center line. Kearns calls out speed. At the far end of the runway, the English country houses become bigger. At 180 m.p.h., Kearns murmurs, "Rotating speed." At 195, he says, "V-2."

The beast lifts off. It climbs slowly, sedately. It carries so many automatic devices that it will fly better if Bowes stops thinking for it. At 33,000 feet we are over Belfast and can see all the way back to Scotland. I go below to have dinner with Kelly.

She has Mother Cabrini in my seat. She won't fly without Mother Cabrini. God knows how many saints she flies with. My respect for flight crews and computers on the flight deck amounts to reverence. Through fair weather and foul, they'll get you there.

I have no respect for airline food and less for stewardesses. The first is bad; the second plays at it. The saucy rejoinders, the flirtatious service flatter no one. There are 15 girls bending over passengers; one takes Polaroid snapshots.

The movie is "The Day of the Jackal." The 747 is so big it will be shown in four parts on the aircraft from four projectors. We eat fatty lamb, broccoli, potatoes the size of ball bearings, and drink wine and coffee. The plane chases the sun all day. At Quebec, the movie is over.

Off Daytona, at sea, I go up the circular stairway. The captain has his radar on the 200-mile range.

From Palm Beach down it is stormy flying. Miami Center vectors Flight One to even lower levels, but, at 8,000 feet, the big plane bucks and rears in violent rain. We hear the calls of Delta, Eastern and others that the local situation is turbulent.

The wind is west 30 knots. The clouds are boiling. We will come in from the sea. Miami says the squall has changed — instead of coming in from 90 degrees, can we make it to 300 degrees? "Negative, negative," says Bowes, bouncing in his seat. "We have waterspouts — three — coming up from the sea."

He fights the gray rocks of the sky. Kearns sees strobe lights. I see paper flying across the runway. We make it with ease. The tower reports we have black smoke in back. "That isn't smoke," Bowes says, "it's burned rubber from the tires."

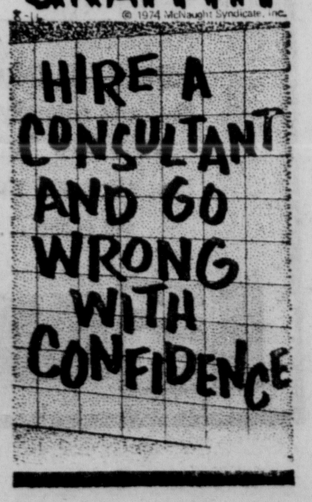

At the dock, he looks at his watch. "Thirteen minutes late," he says. "Damn."...

NEW YORK (UPI) — Prices opened slightly higher today on the New York Stock Exchange.

Shortly after the opening the Dow Jones industrial average—in a slide for six days—moved 0.23 higher to 737.95. Of the 338 issues on the tape, there were 140 advances, 91 declines. Initial trading was slow.

If any rebound on the stock market is in prospect, it probably will last for a short time, according to analysts. They pointed out that some upside movement would be natural after the six-day loss in the dow, but insisted that such long standing problems as soaring inflation and high interest rates would act as a brake on any advance.

The imminent end to the fighting on Cyprus could give Wall Street a psychological lift, some said.

Drought Threatens Incomes

By United Press International

The drought which has withered crops in the nation's midlands could also eat away at farm incomes and add to worldwide inflation, according to economists.

An economist for the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco warned Thursday that farm income may take a nosedive after a good start in the early months.

"In the early spring excessive rainfall and plant disease caused delayed plantings, then a severe drought took its toll throughout the Midwest compounding damage from earlier flooding," economist Dean Chen said in a newsletter.

Chen said farm income might drop to $30 billion in 1974 compared to last year's record $32 billion.

But farm families will not be the only ones hard hit by the drought, which has destroyed much of the corn in the nation's five-state corn belt. The implications, according to one economist, are worldwide.

The drought will add to world inflationary problems in 1975, according to Dr. Louis Thompson, a highly-regarded agricultural economist and associate dean of agriculture at Iowa State University.

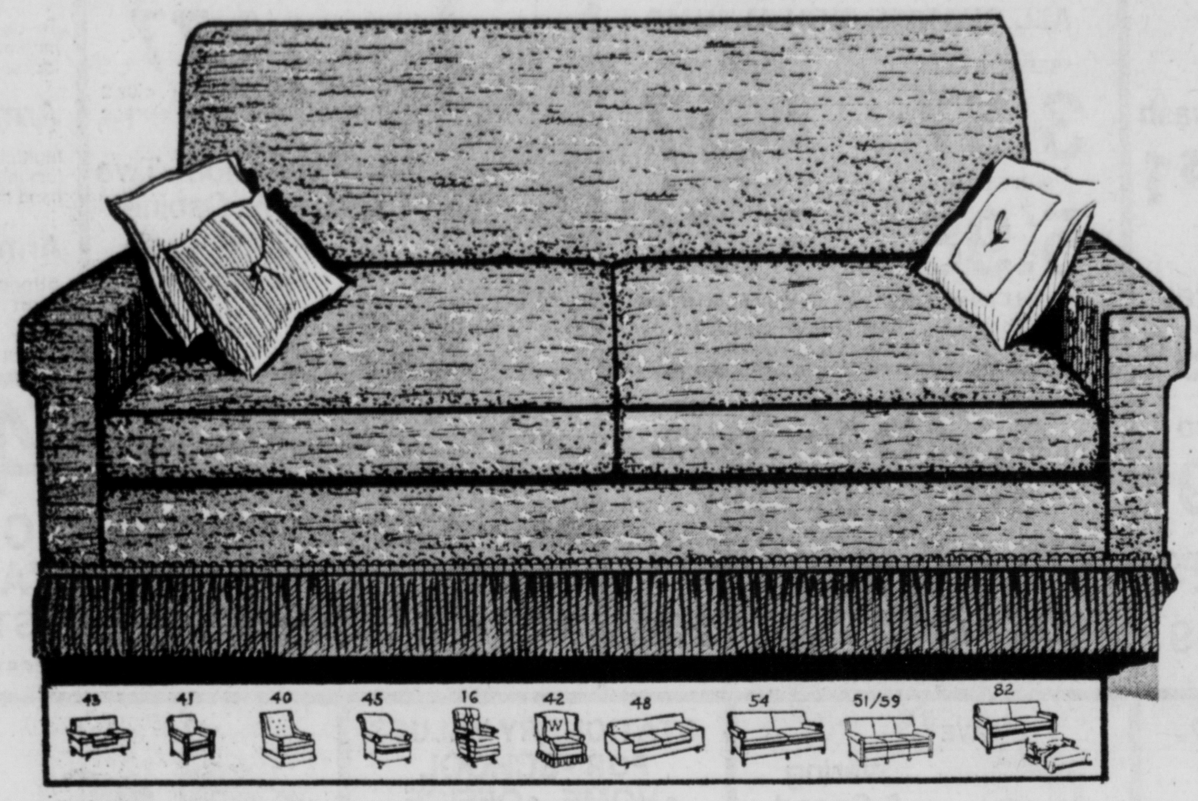

He said the drought also had severe implications for the livestock industry. Ranchers had been selling off parts of their herds resulting in increased supplies of meat here and in Europe.

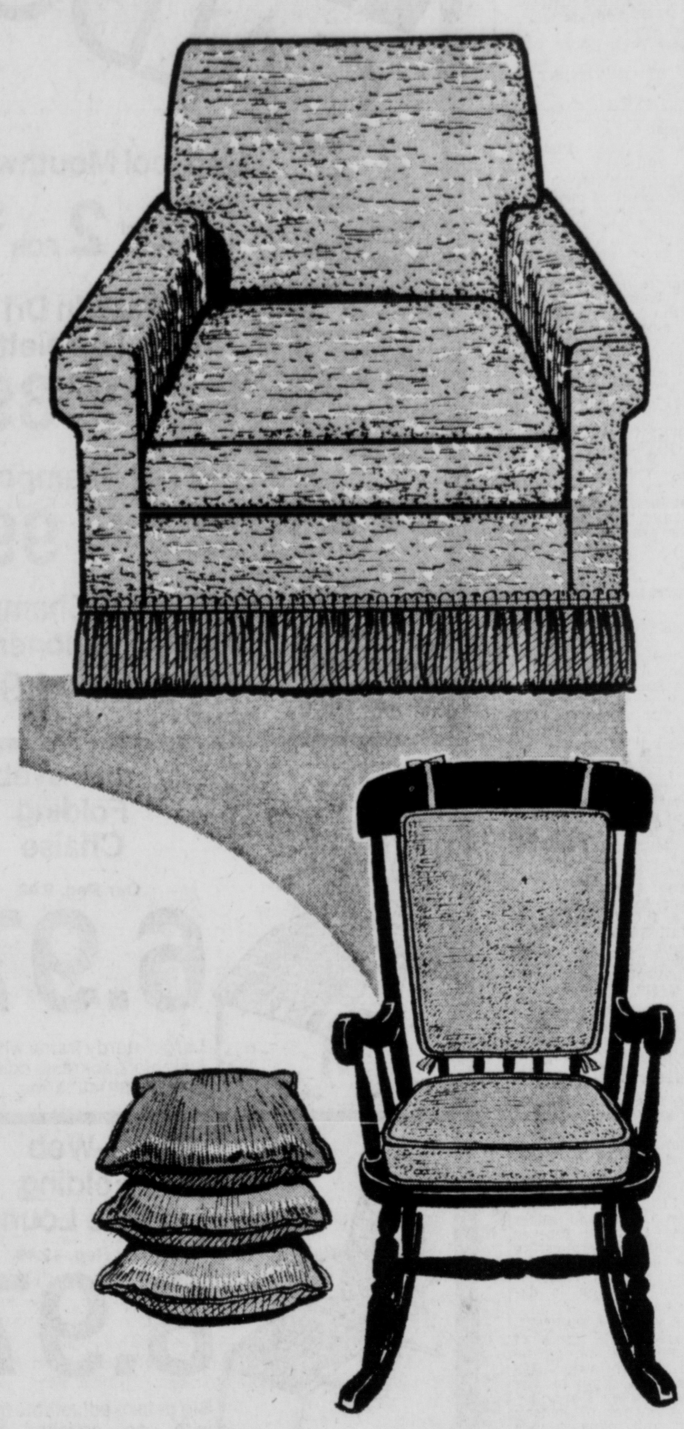

"The result, however, will be much higher prices for red meat in a few months after this liquidation has run its course," he said.

Assistant Agriculture Secretary Clayton Yeutter said the government would try to avoid export controls and instead ask foreign commercial buyers to voluntarily cut back their purchases of U.S. grain.

LOOSENING UP — Joe Namath, star quarterback of the New York Jets, draws a crowd as he unlimbers his famous throwing arm during a practice session at Hofstra University Thursday. Head Coach Charlie Winner (at right with hands in pockets) is one of the interested on-lookers. (UPI)

Chris Evert in Travers . . .
The Reaction Is Mixed

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N.Y. (AP)—Chris Evert, the nation's leading thoroughbred filly, will seek to become the first filly to win the Travers Stakes since 1867. The decision to enter her against colts has drawn a mixed reaction at the track here.

One official of the New York Racing Association, who asked not to be identified, gritted his teeth and hissed "fools!" upon hearing the filly's trainer, Joe Trovato's words: "If there are no problems between now and then she'll run."

Like most veteran track hands, the official thought Torovato's decision Thursday was ill-advised. Fillies have traditionally been unable to hold their own against colts in longer races and have therefore not been entered. The $100,000 added Travers Saturday is a mile-and-a-quarter test.

Many breeders and trainers believe that fillies should not compete against colts in longer races such as the Travers.

Some track officials, however, were glad. Because of the filly's popularity, they said they anticipated a record crowd.

In Saturday's race, Chris Evert's main opponent was considered to be Darby Dan Farm's Little Current. Winner of two parts of the 1974 Triple Crown, Little Current took the Belmont Stakes and The Preakness. Despite his recent loss to John Gerbas Jr.'s Holding Pattern in the Monmouth Invitational Handicap, Little Current was considered Saturday's favorite. Thirteen winners of the Belmont have gone on to take the Travers before him.

Carl Rosen's filly, named after the tennis champion, now makes her $32,000 yearling purchase price seem like peanuts. Sure to be named Filly of the Year, she became the third filly to take the Triple Crown for Fillies: the Acorn, the Mother Goose, and the Coaching Club American Oaks. A month ago, she scored a startling 50-length victory over West Coast champion, Miss Musket, in a a mile-and-a quarter match race at Hollywood Park.

But many track people frowned on her entry here. In 105 runnings of the Travers Stakes, the oldest stakes race in the United States, only one filly, Ruthless, has ever won. And that was in 1867. Regret, in 1915, was the only filly ever to win the Kentucky Derby, which celebrated its centennial run this year.

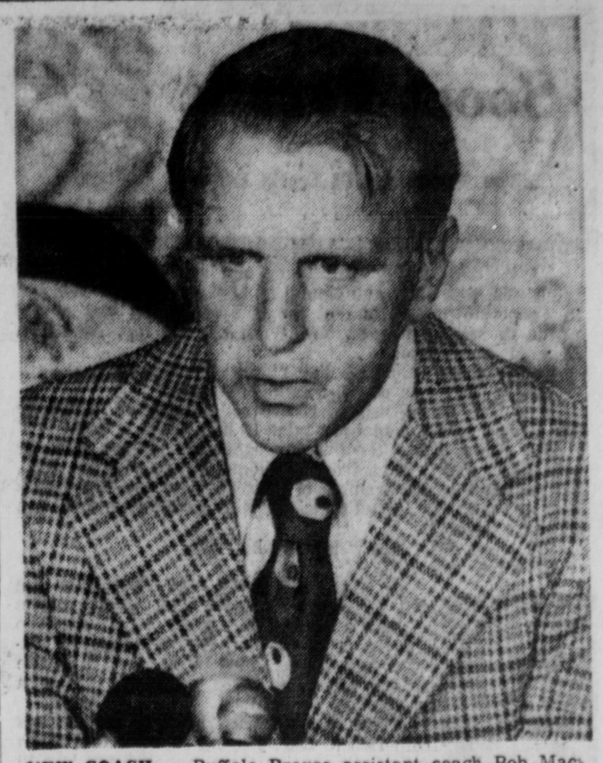

The most recent outstanding filly to challenge colts in the Travers was Meadow Stable's Cicaca in 1962. She trailed the field miserably.

These facts and figures did not discourage racing fans.

"She's a top class filly. Sure I'll bet on her," said Bahadur Ali, a mortician from Brooklyn who has been coming to Saratoga for forty years.

"Yes, she has a chance, after that 50-length lead in California," said Daniel Rubino of Latham, a steam-fitter.

Chris Evert also excited the imagination of feminist fans. A young woman from Somserset, N.J., Diane Roman said, "I think it's great. I always like to see fillies run against colts. It's time for women to start competing with men, whether it's animals or humans."

NEW COACH — Buffalo Braves assistant coach Bob MacKinnon responds to a question at a news conference in St. Louis Thursday after being named head coach of the Spirits of St. Louis of the American Basketball Association. Just One of the Questions

Are Vets in Shape?

The first National Football League pre-season weekend this season with veterans available for duty begins in Detroit tonight and coaches are hoping to have a lot of questions answered.

The Oakland Raiders take on the Lions in tonight's only game while eight games are scheduled for Saturday, three for Sunday and one Monday night.

The big questions the coaches will look to have answered are just what kind of shape the veterans are in after more than 40 days of striking and how rookies who have played the first two or three pre-season games will react when facing experienced players.

Most coaches have expressed surprise at how well-conditioned their veterans came in after the strike, which is in the fourth day of a two-week cooling off period the Players Association hopes will facilitate bargaining for a new contract. Only play under game conditions can answer the question about the rookies and that will come this weekend.

Saturday the New York Jets meet New York Giants at New Haven, Conn., in a day game while at night, Baltimore plays Cleveland at Tampa, Fla., Cincinnati is at Atlanta, Houston at Dallas, Kansas City at Los Angeles, Pittsburgh at Philadelphia, St. Louis at San Diego and Chicago at Green Bay.

Denver is at San Francisco Sunday afternoon while New Orleans is at New England and Buffalo at Washington at night and the Super Bowl clubs—Miami and Minnesota—meet in Florida Monday night on national television.

In news from the camps Friday, the Denver Broncos announced that veteran wide receiver Gene Washington will undergo surgery for a torn cartilage in his ankle and will miss the season. Broncos Coach John Ralston was pleased with his veterans' performance as he opened drill.

"I was skeptical they wouldn't come in from the strike in real good shape," said Ralston. "When they work out under their own guidance, you wonder. But overall, I was very surprised with the excellent condition our men reported in. We're not going to have to lose any time on conditioning."

Cincinnati Coach Paul Brown predicted that "seven or eight new men" could make his club. "That's a pretty high percentage," said Brown. "Anyone we cut is going to say it's strike related. It's not true at all. Obviously we can't keep them all and we have seven or eight new men I think are going to make it.

"As an illustration, say we've got two guys of equal ability at a position but one is six to eight years younger and also quicker. You have to take things like that into consideration."

San Francisco traded star running back Vic Washington to Houston for a No. 1 draft pick next year and a No. 3 the following season. Washington and Coach Dick Nolan got into a rhubarb about Washington's missing practice and Nolan ordered him out of camp.

At Green Bay, veterans Carlton Oats, Ike Williams and Bob Kroll failed their physicals and were waived. Veteran defensive tackle Mike McCoy said he will not report to the Packer camp until he settles his contract.

The New York Jets announced that quarterback Joe Namath will not play against the Giants. Coach Charley Winner said Namath has had too little time to learn a new offense and he will leave him behind at the Jets' camp to work out with several other veterans. Rookie John Jones will start at quarterback for the Jets, who lost starting guard Randy Rasmussen Thursday with a broken hand.

Pittsburgh put veteran offensive tackle Mel Holmes on waivers and New England released quarterback Brian Dowling, who is scheduled to join the World Football League next season. Philadelphia dropped veteran linebacker John Sodaski, who was claimed immediately by Denver, and veteran center Wayne Mulligan left the St. Louis Cardinals' camp for "personal reasons."

Sun Becomes Star Attraction

HOUSTON (AP) — The Southern California Sun became the star attraction of the World Football League's Western Division today after stealing a few lines from the Houston Texans' defensive script Thursday night.

The Texans entered the game as the top defensive team in the WFL and held a one-half game lead over the Sun in the Western Division.

But the Sun defense victimized substitute quarterback Don Trull with two interceptions, one a 66-yard touchdown return by Durwood Keeton, to defeat the Texans 18-7 before 31,227 in the Astrodome and a national television audience.

"I knew I was gone when I got it," said Keeton, whose interception return with 24 seconds left in the fourth quarter iced the game for the Sun. "Heck, there wasn't anybody there but me. I knew they had to stop the clock by going deep or for the quick out.

"I told (Jim) Bowman to go deep and I went for the quick out. I'll have to credit Coach (Ed) Cody for teaching me how to pick off the quick out pattern."

Houston, which dropped to a 2-3-1 record, led 7-0 at the half on a 51-yard touchdown bomb from quarterback Mike Taliaferro to John Odom, who grabbed the ball between two Sun defenders.

Safety Jack Conners grabbed Houston's first punt of the third quarter on his own 10 and raced 90 yards for the tying touchdown.

Taliaferro left the game in the second quarter with a cut over his left eye that required six stitches. He had completed six of eight passes for 117 yards, including five of five in the first quarter. Trull finished the game.

Conners left the game with a dislocated elbow and may be out three or four weeks. Texan running back Warren McVea, who joined the team last Saturday, ran one play and sustained broken ribs.

New York Stars a Hit . . . But Not in the Box Office

NEW YORK (AP) — You can reach for the Stars now.

The New York Stars of the World Football League are for sale, according to reports.

"I wouldn't doubt that the club is for sale," noted Bob Keating, general manager of the team. "There have been overtures from buyers since he (Bob Schmertz) bought the club."

Keating responded Thursday to a report in the New York Post that a "for sale" sign was hung out on the financially plagued WFL club.

The Post, quoting an "unidentified" WFL source, said that Schmertz, who also operates the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association, would sell the Stars for $6 million to a person described as fairly well known outside of sports.

The Stars have been a hit on the field but less than a smash at the box office. Even if they sold out every one of their 10 home games at Downing Stadium (seating capacity 27,000), they would lose a million dollars their first year in the infant league, an official reports.

But the Stars have not done especially well drawing fans at the archiac stadium at nearby Randalls Island. Wednesday night was a good example. Only 16,222 fans, including 2,310 in on handout and discount tickets, watched the Stars beat the Portland Storm.

Schmertz has recently been plagued by financial problems. His major asset, Leisure Technology, a land development firm, has dropped drastically in value. He recently lost a $3.75-million lawsuit in connection with the Celtics and before that, had sold his ownership in the New England Whalers of the World Hockey League.

His total worth reportedly has dropped from $25 million to $9 million.

"I don't think he's the kind of man to give up control even if he does sell part of the team," Keating noted. "He has said he is willing to listen, though."

Howard Baldwin, a minority stockholder in the Stars with 5 per cent ownership (Schmertz owns 95 per cent) agrees with Keating's assessment.

"A number of people have approached him, and he always contacts me when he gets an offer," Baldwin said. "We'd be crazy not to listen. We are not looking for a buyer, but we would not turn down a reasonable offer.

"It's extremely expensive to run the club at Downing Stadium. But it has not been more expensive than anticipated. We didn't expect a return the first two seasons.

'Tonto' Wins

VERNON, N.Y. (UPI) — Silver King, urged on by Jay Silverheels, a former sidekick of TV's Lone Ranger, trotted to a five-length win over Perfect Hostess Thursday night in the $1,800 eighth race at Vernon Downs. Mar Con Honey showed.

Driven by the former Tonto for a 2:02 4-5 mile, the winner returned $8.80, $6 and $3.80.

A 6-1 daily double of Cold Spring Marie and Thorpes Chimes paid $23.80.

A crowd of 4,504 bet $265,511.

Intrepid Gets Jump In America's Cup

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI) — A soggy spinnaker dragged Courageous to a halt and wiped out her eight-second lead at the start of the final leg Thursday as co-favorite Intrepid went on to take the first win in the crucial final trials to select the United States' defender for the America's Cup.

"That really was the boat race," said Gerry Driscoll, skipper of twice-defender Intrepid. "They dropped the chute overboard and we got them at the mark."

In a companion race, aluminum-hulled Mariner, under new skipper Dennis Conner, beat sister-ship Valiant by a comfortable 1:32. The races were delayed almost two hours by light winds.

In today's second race action, Intrepid sails against Mariner with Courageous taking on Valiant in the choppy Atlantic waters off Newport.

Intrepid got 10 seconds on Courageous at the start of Thursday's race and built the lead up to 1:31 after two legs of the 24.3-mile course.

The crucial point came rounding the final mark towards home when, holding the eight-second lead, a line jammed into one of Courageous' foot blocks and the crew couldn't get the spinnaker down. She tacked in an effort to grab the light chute but it fell overboard and streamed out of the boat, grinding the aluminum 12-meter yacht to a near-halt.

Intrepid went on to win by 31 seconds and gain a 7-4 overall edge on Courageous in the summerlong trials that began in June.

Conley Meets Semple In U.S. Amateur Semis

SEATTLE (UPI) — Charged up Peggy Conley challenged defending champion Carol Semple today in the semifinals of the U.S. Women's Amateur Golf Championship while medalist Deborah Massey and Cynthia Hill battled for the other berth in Saturday's final.

Miss Conley, Spokane, Wash., said she felt ready to "go all the way" after defeating Anne Quast Sander in a grueling third round match that went to the 20th hole Thursday.

After winning that one in erratic fashion, the Spokane golfer, who teaches school in the Seattle area, settled down to win a methodical 2 and 1 quarterfinal match from Beth Barry, Mobile, Ala. later the same day.

"Anyone who beats Anne Sander, especially on her home course, can pat themselves on the back," Miss Conley said. "I really was confident after beating Anne. But I was really shaking when I was putting on that 20th hole."

Shares Lead With Stockton

Murphy Loves GHO

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (UPI) — Bob Murphy, fun-loving tour veteran, loves to play golf in Hartford.

"The Good Lord must have been a Hartford Jaycee," cracked Murphy, who last won in 1970. "I seem to get help here."

Murphy and Dave Stockton fired identical rounds of 32-33-65 Thursday to snare the first day lead of the $200,000 Sammy Davis Jr.-Greater Hartford Open at the Wethersfield Country Club.

Murphy, who left the tour for nearly four months while recovering from an operation on his left thumb, was "very, very happy" with his opening round.

"The crowds like me," smiled Murphy, who has not won a PGA tournament since his GHO victory here four years ago. "They clap their hands. They scream. The fans really egg me on. Essentially, we're all showoffs out there on the course, and it's fun to show off in front of people who like you."

Murphy had six birdies and no bogeys as his short iron game was on target. The longest putt of his round was a six-footer.

Stockton, who matched Murphy's 6-under-par total over the 6,583-yard par 71 course, dropped five putts of 15 feet and over for birdies, and saved par twice with putts of 10 feet.

"This is as good as I've putted all year," he said.

Of the 144 starters, 89 matched or bettered par during the first round.

Defending champion Billy Casper, who won with a 20-under-par total a year ago, finished with a 73, placing him far back in the pack and in danger of missing the cut. Last year, the cutoff point after two rounds was 2 under.

Just one stroke in back of Murphy and Stockton stands tour rookie Eddie Pearce and veteran Bruce Devlin, who both carded under-par 66s.

Two strokes behind the leaders was a quartet of players, headed by the tour's second leading money winner, Hubert Green. Joining Green in the group at 67 were George Johnson, Jerry McGee and Don Bliss.

Lee Trevino, still smiling after his major championship victory at the PGA, leads a group of 14 who shot 3-under-par 68s.

Trevino, despite bogeying two of the last three holes, said he had played "very well."

"Except for the finish and one three-putt green, I was very pleased," he said. "I hit my pitching wedge extremely well. That was the reason for most of my six birdies."

In the logjam at 68 with Trevino were past champion Bob Goalby, J.C. Snead, Grier Jones, Butch Baird, Don Iverson, Larry Nelson, John Schroeder, John Lister, Albert Salinas, Andy North, Dwight Nevil, John Mahaffey and Bob Wynn.

Gary Player, co-favorite with Trevino, shot a 69, and echoed the sentiments of most of the pros when he said, "The greens here are as good as any I've ever seen."

Gay Brewer, Bert Yancey, Ray Floyd and recent Pleasant Valley titlist Victor Regalado were in the group at 69.

A flock of veterans, including Gene Littler, Bruce Crampton, Ken Still, Mason Rudolph and Phil Rodgers, were in the huge crowd at 70.

Milton Richman, UPI Sports Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bill Terry, the last National Leaguer to hit .400, was blunt and candid as always this past weekend in Cooperstown and one of the individuals he had a few words to say about was Ted Williams, the last American Leaguer to hit .400.

Terry batted .320 or better nine years in a row.

This is only one of his accomplishments.

Now he's in the middle of another he doesn't ordinarily dwell upon unless somebody talks to him about it first.

Bill Terry makes the trip to Cooperstown every year, or practically every year, from his home in Jacksonville, Fla., for the annual enshrinement of new inductees into Baseball's Hall of Fame. He feels this is one way of doing what he can to boost baseball.

His latest visit this week was his 19th.

So what, you say?

TERRY

So this: Bill Terry was elected to the Hall of Fame 20 years ago, which means he hasn't missed too many trips. He also happens to be 75, and transportation to out-of-the-way Cooperstown being what it is, the journey back and forth wears out people a lot younger sometimes Terry, who was with the New York Giants from 1923 to 1941, playing first base for them and winding up as their manager the last 10 years, said he regretted the fact some Hall of Famers merely come up to Cooperstown only to get their plaque and never return.

"Quite a few come up to be inducted and never come back. Ted Williams is one. He's a fellow who should be a leader in this regard, and isn't," Terry said about the former Boston slugger elected to the Hall of Fame eight years ago.

"There are a number of other Hall of Famers who don't come up to Cooperstown very often, either," I said to Terry. "Why single out Williams?"

"Because he is a top man," said Terry. "There are a lot of ways Hall of Famers can help baseball. This is only one of them. I think the top men should be called on to visit different clubs, both major and minor, to participate in some kind of day that would create more interest in baseball. People should be able to see these players without charge. I've always offered to go any place for this sort of thing, and I've gone to a few places."

WILLIAMS

Bill Terry is one of baseball's self-made men.

Never overly popular with the press while with the Giants, he generally said exactly what was on his mind.

He began his professional baseball career as a left-handed pitcher at 16 and then quit for a good paying job with Standard Oil while in the minors.

John McGraw, the late manager of the Giants, tried to get him back.

"There is only one way you can," Terry put him straight. "With money!"

McGraw didn't get Terry easily. It took him the better part of four years, and Bob Broeg, sports editor and columnist of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, tells of a meeting in Memphis between the two in his excellent book, Super Stars of Baseball.

McGraw asked Terry, "How would you like to come to New York with me?"

"What for?"

"To play with the Giants, maybe."

"For how much?" Terry asked.

McGraw burned. "Do you understand what I'm offering you? I'm offering you a chance to play with the Giants—if you're good enough."

Terry, 23 at the time and a family man, understood.

"Excuse me," he said tartly, "if I don't fall all over myself, but the Giants don't mean a thing to me unless you make it worth my while. I'm doing all right here. I have a nice home and I'm in no hurry to leave it or the job. If I can make much more money going to New York, I'll go. You can't get me excited by talking to me about the New York Giants."

Ultimately, Terry signed with the Giants for $5,000 a season.

At Cooperstown last weekend, he told of a period when he and McGraw didn't speak for two years. Then one day the Giants' manager called him into his Polo Grounds' office and opened the conversation this way:

"How would you like to manage the Giants?"

Terry was about to say something, but McGraw stopped him.

"You don't have to give me your answer now," said the Giants' manager. "Think it over. This is Friday and you can tell me Monday."

"I don't have to wait until Monday," said Terry. "I can give you my answer right now. It's yes."

Terry batted .401 for the Giants in 1930, and 11 years later Williams hit .406 for the Red Sox. Nobody has hit .400 since although Terry says you can't say nobody ever will again.

"I think Rod Carew may be the type to do it," he says.

The best hitter he ever saw, Terry says, was Rogers Hornsby.

"He would be my right-handed choice," says Terry. "The best left-handed hitter I ever saw was Babe Ruth."

Perry Extends Winning Streak to One

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Gaylord Perry's on a winning streak . . . one in a row.

Earlier in the baseball season, that would have been a joke. But it isn't now to the Cleveland Indians' pitcher.

Perry, who won 15 straight in one stretch this year, was on a six-game losing streak before Thursday night's 4-2 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

In the only other American League game, the Baltimore Orioles nipped the Chicago White Sox 2-1. And in the only National League game, the Chicago Cubs beat the Houston Astros 5-3.

"I've never had any doubts in my ability to pitch," said Perry, who hadn't won a game since July 3. "I've felt great all along. I've just been in a slump."

At one juncture of the season, the two-time Cy Young winner had a dazzling 15-1 record. Now, it's a more modest 16-7.

"That's the longest slump I've ever had and it has been the hardest one," Perry noted.

He was taken out of Thursday night's game after walking the leadoff batter in the eighth inning. He had given up just five hits.

"I didn't want to come out," Perry said. "But you can't say it was a bad move from the way it worked out."

Frank Duffy's two-run single provided Perry with his winning runs. With the score tied 1-1 and two out in the Cleveland sixth, John Ellis doubled. Minnesota starter Bert Blyleven, 11-14, then walked Oscar Gamble and Tom McCraw to load the bases and set the stage for Duffy's single to left. The Indians scored an insurance run in the eighth on McCraw's sacrifice fly.

Orioles 2, White Sox 1

Earl Williams and Paul Blair walloped home runs in support of Mike Cuellar's six-hit pitching as Baltimore beat Chicago.

The Orioles failed to score in the third after loading the bases with one out, but Williams connected for his ninth homer of the season in the fourth and Blair slammed his 13th an inning later off loser Jim Kaat, 13-10.

Cubs 5, Astros 3

Second baseman Larry Milbourne dropped Steve Swisher's two-out, bases-loaded popup for a two-run error in a three-run eighth inning to give Chicago its victory over Houston.

Billy Williams started the winning rally with a one-out single—the 2,500th hit of his major league career—off Ken Forsch, 4-4. Andy Thornton walked and Jerry Morales singled, tying the score.

Jim York replaced Forsch and walked Bill Madlock intentionally to load the bases. He struck out George Mitterwald before Milbourne dropped Swisher's routine popup, letting Thornton and Morales score.

Osteen to Cards

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — The St. Louis Cardinals Thursday obtained lefthanded pitcher Claude Osteen from the Houston Astros and sent righthander Ron Selak from the Cards' Arkansas farm club of the Texas League to the Astro's Columbus, Ga., farm team.

Osteen, 35, has a 189-177 career record with the Cincinnati Reds, Washington Senators, Los Angeles Dodgers and the Astros. He was 9-9 in 23 games with the Astros this season.

Selak was the Cards' No. 2 choice in the 1973 free agent draft. He was 9-8 with the farm club, with a 3.06 earned-run average.

In addition to Selak, the Astros will receive cash and a player to be named later.

Brother Bill, That Is

Zeeh and Emanuel in Finals

KINGSTON

Bill Zeeh, the defending champion, and Lloyd Emanuel breezed to impressive victories Thursday to set up one of the most attractive singles finals in recent years in the Ulster County Tennis Tournament.

Zeeh, a former UCCC and East Stroudsburg varsity ace, zipped past Gordia Krajna 6-0, 6-0, while Emanuel handled Richard Smith in easy fashion, 6-1, 6-2.

Zeeh and Emanuel meet in the singles finals Sunday at 12 noon at the Forsyth Park courts.

Armande Bardey eliminated Judy Hevesi in women's singles quarter finals 6-2, 6-4. Finals in this division are scheduled Sunday at 10 a.m.

The Brothers Zeeh, apparently headed for a repeat in men's doubles, polished off Ron Woods and Pete Boyd with the loss of only one game, 6-1, 6-0. Krajna and Barker were too meet Smith and Provenzano today for the right to challenge the Zeehs in the doubles finals Saturday at 3 p.m.

Ruth Goldin and Marshall Lipton advanced to the finals of the mixed doubles with a 7-5, 6-1 win over Chris Miller and Tom Provenzano. Tochterman and Zeeh face the Sykes-Eamnuel tandem today at 5:30 p.m. for the right to oppose Goldin and Lipton in the finals Sunday at 3 p.m.

The Needles-Towbin team eliminated Cantine and Dean in senior men's doubles. Both semi-final matches are scheduled today at 7 p.m., with the finals at noon Saturday.

A new trophy has been placed in competition in the county tournament this year. To be known as the Canfield Cup, the beautiful silver cup will be presented by John R. Shults Jr. to the best male tennis player in the area as determined by the Ulster County Tournament.

Each year, the winner's name will be engraved on the cup which will be displayed in a prominent location in Kingston. The presentation will highlight the reception and awards ceremony planned by the Kingston Area Tennis Association Sunday, following the 3 p.m. mixed doubles finals.

McWeeney: 2-Hitter

Turk Captures Title

KINGSTON

Mike McWeeney fired a two-hitter, singled in the winning run and sighed with relief when his Turk Construction teammates got him out of three jams Thursday night at Dietz Stadium to win the Junior Babe Ruth League Championship by a 4-2 score over the Vols in the final game of a best-of-three series.

The Vols' only two hits off McWeeney were first inning singles that followed a game-opening walk to Phil Haber. Ron Kahlstorf moved him over, and Mike Costello drove him home. From that point, however, McWeeney battled only his control as the threw six innings of no-hit balll to get the win.

Turk went into the lead in the fourth inning, scoring twice after loser Costello had retired the first two Turk batters. Tony Grimaldi singled, and Bob Jordan doubled, and both rode home on another hit by Lou Fuoco. John Acker tripled and scored on McWeeney's single in the next inning, and Turk got its final run on three walks and a Vols' error in the sixth.

The winners went into the seventh with a 4-1 lead, but it easily could have been different. With two on and two out in the fifth, Fuoco saved at least two runs by running down Gary LaConture's shot up the left center alley. In the sixth, the Vols' Tony Albany tried to advance from second and a ball hit back to the mound. First baseman Acker took McWeeney's flip for one, then gunned the ball across the diamond to Jay Foust who put the tag on Albany for a double play.

And it was another unorthodox double play that ended the contest. McWeeney's seventh walk of the game, a Turk error, and Joe Augustine's slide into second that eluded Tony Grimaldi on an infield grounder gave the Vols a one-out, bases loaded opportunity.

McWeeney then faced cleanup man Costello who lifted a scarifice fly to score one run. The Turk defense, however, reacted quickly and caught Augustine in a rundown for the game's final out.

McWeeney was the winning pitcher in the series' first game, beating the Vols, 6-3 on another two-hitter. The Vols tied it up with a 7-5 win to force the third game.

Rondout Leads Classic

ACCORD

Wiltwyck Golf Club juniors in fifth place in a Mid-Hudson Junior Golf Classic tournament? Yep, hit happened Thrusday at the Rondout Pool, Golf and Tennis Club.

While the host Rondout juniors were registering a stuning two-stroke victory over runnerup Woodstock, the Wiltwyck squad, minus three of its regulars, slipped to fifth place in the team standings.

Rondout, paced by Billy Brush's 84, fashioned a team total of 345. Woodstock had 347, Catskill 358, Twaalfskill 360, Wiltwyck 364, Locust Tree 367, Sawyerkill 370, Shawangunk 398 and Stone Dock 437.

The three missing Wiltwyck regulars were Brant Thomas, Kyle Murray and Billy Collins. The fifth-place finish was the lowest ever for Wiltwyck in the nine-year history of the tournament.

John DeForest of Catskill, the recently crowned Northeastern New York Junior champion, took individual honors with a bizarre on under-par 46-33-69 for an 11-point spread over the field.

Runnerup was John Dunn of Sawyerkill with 41-39-80, followed by John Carlson, Woodstock, 40-41-81; Mike Meehan, Rondout, 43-39-82; and A. J. Maneen, Wiltwyck, 39-44-83.

DeForest's gross 69 also led the net division. Dunn posted 80-8-72; Meehan, 82-9-73; Maneen, 83-10-73, and Billy Brush, Rondout, 84-11-73.

With one week left to play, Wiltwyck, with an aggregate of 2624, has a comfortable 61-stroke lead over runnerup Woodstock in the team standings. Others in order: Twaalfskill 2779, Sawyerkill 2825, Catskill 2847, Rondout 2942, Locust Tree 2999, Stone Dock 3211.

The finals are scheduled Aug. 26 at Sawyerkill Country Club in Saugerties.

A Memorial For Knievel

BARRE, Vt. (AP)—A Vermont granite firm says it will donate a memorial to motorcycle daredevil Evel Knievel.

The four-foot high granite tablet will commemorate Knievel's Sept. 8 rocketcycle jump over the mile-long Snake River Canyon in Idaho.

"If Evel makes it, the memorial will commemorate a record-breaking event. If not, it will commemorate Evel's daring feat for generations to come," a spokesman for the Rock of Ages Granite Co. of Barre, Vt., said Thursday.

The memorial will bear a suitable inscription.

Rolling Acres Wins Slo-Pitch 'A' Flag

KINGSTON — A lone run in the bottom of the seventh inning boosted Rolling Acres past Guido's, 5-4, in the City Slo Pitch League Thursday night and allowed the undefeated winners to clinch the pennant in the A Division.

Other squads, meanwhile, struggled to assure themselves playoff spots. Hurley Mt. Inn took a step in the right direction, topping Partner's Lounge, 9-5, to move into third place. In other A battles, Artie's defeated Potter Brothers, 13-7, and LaLima's bombed the Telephone Boozers, 16-3. In one C Division game, Cordts Hose took an important 4-3 win from the Governor Clinton Cleaners.

Bob Martin and Mario Cruz crashed a pair of homers that gave Rolling Acres a 4-1 lead to start the seventh. Guido's finally came alive to tie it up in the final frame, but winner Don Patton choked off the rally just in time. The win lifted Rolling Acres to 11-0 on the year and a two-and-a-half game lead with one game left to play.

The Hurley Mt. Inn all but finished the Partner's Lounge chances for post season play. A three-run fifth inning was the differences as Gene Gorelle got hitting support from Jim Attley and Bill Schuber to get the victory. Hurley jumped into third place with an 8-3 slate, while the Lounge dropped to seventh at 7-5.

Fred Seeger belted two homers, and teammate Joe Closs slammed one to lead Artie's into a three-way tie for fourth at 7-4. Seeger had four RBI's and Rich Amato chipped in with four hits to help Joe Uhl pick up the decision.

LaLima's escaped the cellar by pounding the Boozers into submission in four innings. Roger Lapp hit a grand slam for the winners to offset Reggie Hamilton's solo shot for the losers.

Cordts Hose clinched at least a tie for fourth by nipping the Cleaners on a run in the last inning. Joe Rougier picked up the win. Connie Longto tripled, singled and knocked in two runs for the victors.

NEW YORK (AP) — Met outfielder Cleon Jones claimed Thursday he was hit by a pitcher — a water pitcher wielded by a bar patron last June 6 — and won the right to file charges in Queens Criminal Court.

Both Jones, part owner of the bar, and Tucker were given summonses to reapper in court on Dec. 23 to proceed with complaints against each other.

The incident which started at the Oufielder's Lounge, in East Elmhurst, Queens, resulted in charges of harassment, menacing and criminal mischief againt Jones.

It also resulted in a police summons for operating a disorderly premises to Tom Agee, former Met player and co-owner of the bar who was acting as manager that night.

Tucker, a technician employed by Grumman Aircraft, claimed Jones not only harassed him but damaged his automobile.

Jones claimed in court Thursday that Tucker not only hit him with the pitcher inside the bar but also tried to run him down with his car.

Lasers In Repeat

POUGHKEEPSIE — Make that five straight Hudson Valley Rookie League baseball pennants for the invincible Poughkeepsie Lasers.

The Lasers, who were supposed to be in the midst of a rebuilding program this season, completed a three-game sweep of the Southern Division champion Newburgh Atoms in the championship playoffs with a 4-2 victory behind the two-hit pitching of Scott Gleckel.

Poughkeepsie, which had beaten out the Kingston Braves in both rounds of the Northern Division's regular season to earn a berth in the playoffs, won the first two games at Newburgh.

Poughkeepsie has won 123 games and lost 12 over the last five seasons, an incredible average of 24.6 wins against 2.4 losses a year. The Lasers were 18-3 in 1974.

Gleckel, the Arlington High School ace who is reportedly being watched closely by the New York Mets, lost a no-hitter in the sixth on a Tom Wallraven homer. The Atoms then filled the bases, but Poughkeepsie third baseman Bob Kozak made a sparkling play to stop the threat and put the Newburgh team away for good.

ST. REMY — Bob Schmedake, the Lake Katrine Rod and Gun Club publicity man, phoned in a good story after this week's trap and skeet shoot. He reported a perfect 1.000 score for himself with a string of 50 straight birds. Bill Kopf (25 straight) was runnerup with .980.

Other leaders were: Nick Mauro .940, Bill Costello .933; Grover Ellsworth Sr., .907; Grover Ellsworth Jr., .880; Paul Kristofy .880; Ole Christensen .740 and Vinnie Zaccheo .720.

Mike Nichols led the skeet event with .853. Chet Joy had .720 and Bill Hopf and Grover Ellsworth Sr. finished with .680.

New Paltz Rod and Gun Club has announced Sunday, August 25, as the date for its annual field day and barbecue.

New Playoffs in Slo Pitch

KINGSTON — The congestion among the leaders in the City Slo Pitch League's six divisions has become so heavy this year that Recreation Director Andy Murphy almost has to come up with a whole new season. Call it the "Vicks Vaporub Playoffs."

The Shaughnessy Playoffs, scheduled as usual this season for each division's top four teams, cannot get underway until those first four place have been decided. In most cases, the regular season schedule isn't going to accomplish that. Ties and multi-ties are possible everywhere and probable in most places.

Murphy announced the procedure that will be used to break up the deadlocks. All ties for first place in all divisions will be played off. Should an odd number of teams be forced into a playoff, byes will be drawn.

All ties for fourth place will likewise be played off. Ties for second or third place will be resolved by a coin flip.

Revolutionary Revival on The River

CRUISING DOWN THE RIVER — Two canoeists who are traveling a water route from Rouses Point, N. Y. to New York City, reached the half-way point of their journey at Albany Tuesday. The pair, Joe Ryan, left, and Leo Saposnick, are making the 300 mile trip to call attention to the nation's upcoming bicentenial. The heavily laden canoe and the 18th century costumes are in sharp contrast to the network of elevated highways and bridges crossing the Hudson in the background. (UPI)

RENSSELAER, N.Y. (AP) — Seasoned campaigners they're not, but nonetheless, two unassuming 28-year-old school teachers have been winning the hearts of people up and down the Hudson River this summer.

Dressed as though they just stepped out of a Revolutionary War village, the bearded pair has been paddling their handmade cedar canoe down the river's winding route since July 15.

Officially, they're promoting the state's American Revolution Bicentennial as they carefully recreate the trip of an 18th century settler down the river.

But unofficially, burly Joe Ryan and his longtime friend Leo Saposnick are having the time of their lives.

By their estimates, they've met 5,000 people since they left Rouses Point 220 nautical miles ago and before they conclude their journey in Peekskill next Wednesday, they expect to meet many more.

"I don't want to sound overly patriotic but I think this trip would renew your faith in Americans," said the garrulous Ryan when the pair stopped off in Rensselaer Wednesday.

"People have offered us everything from breakfasts and dinners to gin and tonics, showers and a clean bed," he explained.

When he and Saposnick first discussed the plan "over a few beers" last January, they were merely searching for a novel vacation idea.

However, since the two men both have a lively interest in Revolutionary War history, their river adventure also offered them the ideal vehicle for commemorating the bicentennial.

"You've got to make a commitment if you really want to celebrate the bicentennial," Ryan declared. "We want to tell people, 'Get off your dead can and do something.'"

Paying careful attention to historical detail, they loaded their Langford canoe with reproductions of an 18th century tent, .75-caliber muskets, tomahawks, a buffalo robe and lots of food, courtesty of Ryan's mother.

In addition, they traded in their 1970's garb for the everyday clothing of a colonial soldier—v-necked checked shirts, tight-fitting tan pants and wide-brimmed felt hats.

Though the state American Revolution Bicentennial commission endorsed their venture, the responsibility for financing it was left up to them.

Some of their 18th century artifacts, like the colonial flag flying from the canoe's stern, were loaned to them. Ryan assembled the muskets himself.

Because of everyone's hospitality along the route, the two men have only spent half of their nights sleeping outdoors, and they've never gone hungry.

As he paddled along, Saposnik said, he found the Hudson River "cleaner than thought and actually very scenic."

Though the journey has whetted his appetite for a new outdoors venture, Saposnik, the smaller member of the team admitted that he's getting a little tired.

His broad-shouldered partner doesn't look like he would ever get tired but Ryan has another very good reason for getting home,—he's getting married Sept. 7.

"And you better believe it, I'm ready," he commented Wednesday. He planned to get his blood test while stopped in Rensselaer.

When the pair landed behind Van Rensselaer High School Wednesday, they were greeted by local members of the New York State American Revolution Bicentennial Commission.

One member, Robert Fusco of Waterford, told them "We applaud your spirit and initiative and hope that other citizens in the state learn from your method of commemorating the bicentennial."

Getting back to the classroom might seem tame to two who century. But, Ryan and Saposnik are eager to return to their students at the Blue Mountain Middle School in Montrose.

"This year our classes are going to re-enact an encampment and a Revolutionary battle," Ryan announced as he headed back to his canoe.

Trade With China Seminar at Paltz

NEW PALTZ

A seminar on Trade with China will be held Sept. 28 at the State University College at New Paltz. Co-sponsored by the National Council for US-China Trade, the day long session is open to all and will feature Nicholas Ludlow, editor of US-China Business Review.

Recent visitors to China will offer their evaluations of the status of Sino-American relations and the climate for trade.

American farmers have sold increasing amounts of cotton, corn, soybeans and wheat to China. Boeing 707's have already been delivered to Shanghai. American purchases have not kept up with the dollar volume of purchases by China, and are less than 10 per cent of Chinese purchases.

One of the main reasons for this imbalance is the United States tariff on China goods. Toys from China are assessed a duty of 75 per cent of their value, while those from most other countries are assessed at 15 per cent. Silk is charged an 80 per cent duty. These taxes increase the price of Chinese goods in this country and act to inhibit sales.

It seems likely that Congress will grant China equal status with most of the other trading partners of the United States. Perhaps in the not so distant future, Chinese goods will be found among the selections in our stores.

Throughout the Sept. 28 seminar, items manufactured in The People's Republic of China will be on display. Apparel, shoes, arts and crafts, canned and processed food, musical instruments, books and records as well as other items will be on display. A Chinese buffet luncheon will be available.

For additional information, a brochure and a registration form, contact The Conference Desk, Center for Continuing Education, State University College, New Paltz, N.Y. 12561. Advanced registration is encouraged.

Vets, Saugerties GOP Express Support for Fish

By LYNN MULVANEY

KINGSTON

Reaction to the Town of Ulster GOP Committee's recent criticism of Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr.'s vote for the first article of impeachment of former President Nixon, has produced a number of statements of support for the congressman from veteran's organizations and Saugerties Republicans.

"It's good for our political souls to discuss this," Saugerties GOP Town Chairman Henry Breitenbach told the Freeman after a meeting of his committee Wednesday night at which 28 committeemen present passed a resolution of support for Fish.

Prior to the meeting, which was held on the committee's regular meeting night, a number of Saugerties GOP committeemen had expressed some displeasure with Fish's stand on impeachment.

Consequently, Breitenbach said, when they gathered for the meeting, the topic came up and "everyone who wanted to talk did so."

The committee passed a resolution saying it was "proudly and unanimously going on record with the whole-hearted support of Fish. He has demonstrated the courage of his convictions to the entire nation. He unquestionably merits the support of all voters in the November election. In addition the Saugerties Republican Committee will work for the re-election of the entire Republican slate."

Al Sellet, national chairman of Honor Vietnam Veterans, also issued a press release in support of Fish and is joined in expressing such sentiment by Joseph Hasset, Ulster County commander of Disabled Veterans; Charles Kelder, Ulster County ex-commander of Veterans of Foreign Wars; Gilbert Gray, ex-commandant of the National Marine Corps League.

Sellet said "It takes a darn big man to come out openly, knowing the facts and vote for the first article of impeachment against Nixon. This Congressman Fish did!

"Check Fish's record for the last six years." Sellet sug[illegible] "As a veteran, he worke[illegible] four long years to bring recognition to the Vietnam veterans and proclaim March 29 as Honor Vietnam Veteran Day." Fish submitted three resolutions before it was proclaimed by the President." Sellet said, adding that Fish is also pressing for congressional action for those missing in action.

Town of Ulster Committee, which has repeatedly provided Fish with one of the largest pluralities of any town in the 25th District, agreed that it "cannot continue to support" the congressman due to his vote for the first article of impeachment.

Fish, who actually voted for two articles of impeachment said he came to that conclusion only after long deliberation and because analysis of the evidence developed led him to "the inescapable conclusion that Nixon attempted to commit and conceal illegal acts during his administration.

Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Distributed by
Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

People who write me with questions about etiquette or manners naturally expect to get a definite answer — "This is right" or "That is wrong." Unfortunately, there are many occasions when I simply cannot give a definitive reply. Common sense must dictate the answer. All of the following questions can be answered by either of the alternatives supplied. Once you read them, you will see that rules of etiquette are not as rigid as one might suppose.

1. Should one address a professional woman whose marital status is unknown as Miss or Ms.?

2. Does a divorcee correctly call herself Mrs. Mary Franklin or Mrs. Mary Maiden-name?

3. When John Smith, Sr. dies, does John Smith, Jr. become John Smith, Sr., or does he contiue to use the "Jr." as he always has?

4. When soup is served in a cup with two handles, is all the soup eaten with a spoon, or is the cup picked up by the handles?

5. Should the cards with the donor's name which accompany wedding gifts be displayed with the gifts or should they be removed?

6. Is "Jr." or "Junior" the correct form following a man's name on a visiting card?

7. When vegetables are served to you in a small side dish, should you eat them from that dish or should you spoon or pour them onto your dinner plate?

8. Should fathers of a bride and groom stand in the receiving line, or may they leave that to the mothers and circulate among the guests?

9. In signing Christmas cards by hand, is the husband's or the wife's name written first?

10. Are the bride's thank-you notes for a wedding gift from a couple written to the wife only or to "Mr. and Mrs."?

11. When you want to give a gift to a hostess with whom you have spent a night or a weekend, do you take the gift with you or send it after your visit?

12. When you are planning an informal dinner party of eight to twelve people, should invitations be issued by telephone or in writing?

13. Should a bride who is planning a small wedding send printed or engraved invitations, or should she send handwritten ones?

14. At a formal wedding at noon, should the mothers of the bride and groom wear long or short dresses?

PARTY TIME FOR YOUNGSTERS

A party for young children can be a real pleasure if the party is planned from a child's eye view, says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist. Remember that youngsters may become overly exicted by large groups. Their attention span is limited. And competition may cause tenseness. Rather than prizes, give identical party favors. Also, balloons, hats and candy cups are festive take-home decorations.

Plan a number of games and change after short periods of time. But be sure everyone has a turn. Avoid elimination games with the very young. The first one out becomes restless and rejected. Group activities, such as singing games, where everyone joins in are better choices. Dress-up is another activity that young girls enjoy. Provide a variety of hats, handbags, jewelry and what-have-you and let them work in pairs getting all dressed up.

Simple crafts are also good and provide suitable quiet activity. Make up samples ahead of time so the children can see the finished product. Here are some suggestions:—

One idea is to provide each youngster with a bar of soap and variety of odds and ends — bits of fabric, sequins, ribbon, netting, pipe cleaners. With a little glue and guidance, they can make a merry menagerie of funny creatures.

Or stitch simple hand puppet shapes — to be used later as bath mitts — from foam or solid color terry cloth. Let them add facial features with embroidery paint.

Be sure to protect work surfaces with an old plastic tablecloth or shower curtain. And cover each child with an apron or smock. Dad's old shirts work well for this. When finished, gather these things together to be laundered and ready for the next time.

To avoid a messy bathroom, dip washcloths in sudsy water, wring and let the children wash up with these before refreshments are served.. Keep food simple and serve small quantities. Accidents are common and usually very embarrassing to a youngster. So be prepared for any emergency! Have a sudsy sponge and paper towels handy to quickly treat any spills.

As the party comes to an end, be sure each young guest will have all his take-home favors together. Individual paper bags with names printed in bold ink are a simple way to keep order on this score — and thus avoid possible tears.

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES GRANWEHR of 392 Main Street, Saugerties, were guests of honor at a buffet dinner held August 4 in the Knights of Columbus Home in Saugerties. Sunday Concert and Upcoming Song Recital Scheduled at Maverick Concert Hall

ROSE ANDERSON

A concert this Sunday and a song recital on Saturday, Aug. 24, have been slated for Maverick Concert Hall in Woodstock.

Appearing for the first time at Maverick Sunday at 3 p.m. will be Speculum Musicae ("A Musical Mirror"), a group of young gifted artists who joined together in 1971 to perform music of the 20th century.

Speculum Musicae's debut was at the Public Theatre of New York. It was so successfully received that the group was engaged to appear that summer at the Dartmouth Festival of the Arts in New Hampshire and at the Berkshire Festival in Tanglewood. They also won the 1971 Young Concert Artists Auditions and, as a result, were presented in a formal Town Hall debut in 1972. Later that year, Speculum Musicae won the first Naumburg Chamber Music Award, enabling them to perform two concerts at Alice Tully Hall, Lincoln Center, and to commission new works.

In May, 1974, at the invitation of Pierre Boulez, Speculum Musicae performed a concert of his music under his direction at the Whitney Museum in New York. The group appeared in the New York Young Concert Artists Series at Hunter College in 1973 and 1974. In addition to these New York appearances, they have given three Carnegie Recital Hall concerts. Speculum Musicae has toured throughout the United States, including concerts in Chicago, Baltimore, Buffalo and Louisville. They have given concerts and residencies at numerous universities, including the University of Wisconsin at Stevens Point, Stanford University, the University of California at Santa Cruz, Princeton University, the Massachusetts Institute of Technology and the University of North Dakota. They record for Nonesuch Records.

For their Woodstock debut at Maverick Hall, they will perform music of Charles Wuorinen, Maurice Ravel, Henry Cowell, and the Chamber Symphony, Op. 9, of Arnold Schonberg. Tickets will be available at the door on Sunday.

A song recital in honor of the Ives centennial will be given Saturday, Aug. 24, at 3 p.m. in Maverick Concert Hall.

Rose Anderson, contralto, and Raymond Beegle, piano, will present a program of songs in observance of the 100th anniversary of the birth of Charles Ives, considered by many to be America's greatest composer.

Rose Anderson received her professional training at Stanford University and UCLA, as well as in Florence, Italy. She has studied with Martial Singher, Maureen Forrester, and Catherine Aspinall.

First Prize winner of the Bank of America's California Fine Arts Contest, Miss Anderson has appeared in numerous opera and operetta productions on the west coast. She has toured the U.S. and Europe as soloist with the Gregg Smith Singers, and performed in vocal works of Igor Stravinsky under the composer's direction.

Raymond Beegle received his musical training at UCLA, the Vienna Academy of Music, and the University of Southern California, augmenting his studies by playing for master classes given by Lotte Lehmann and Jascha Heifetz.

He has served as accompanist for many distinguished singers including Bernard Kruysen, Klara Barlow, Eugene Conley and Martial Singher.

Miss Anderson and Mr. Beegle have recently performed in the Grammy-award-winning Columbia recording of the complete vocal works of Ives. The program will also feature songs by Schubert, Brahms, Wagner, Gluck, Marcello, and Shostakovich.

Tickets for the event will be available at Maverick on the date of the concert. Special rates are being offered for students and senior citizens.

Sanders and Harris At Artists' Co-Op

The Woodstock Poetry Festival, now in its tenth season, announces a poetry reading by Marguerite Harris and Ed Sanders to be held at the Artists' Co-operative Gallery, Parnassus Square, Woodstock, on Sunday afternoon, Aug. 18, at 3 o'clock.

Ms. Harris is known to Woodstock poetry buffs as the director and founder of the Festival, and as the author of two books of poetry and editor of three anthologies. She and Ed Sanders were early members of the group of poets later to be known as the 'East Side Scene' (Doubleday anthology).

Ed Sanders, originator of The Fugs, and author of three books of poetry ansd prose, is a favorite on the college circuits. His 'Peace Eye' and 'Poems from Jail' won critical praise from Charles Olson, who found his voice 'one of the most original of his generation' and who prefaced his book.

Thanks to a grant from the New York State Council of the Arts, there is no admission fee. All are welcome.

Friends Should Follow Through on Offers to the Widow

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am a 44-year-old widow with three children — two teen-aged boys and a daughter, 12.

My husband died last year after a lingering illnesss that nearly put us in the poorhouse. I am not destitute, but I have to be a very good manager to make ends meet.

My problem: At his funeral, friends and family hovered around me expressing their sincere sympathy, and the last thing I heard from ALL of them was: "If you need anything, please call me."

Abby, I need EVERYTHING! I need someone to take an interest in two teen-aged boys who have no father. I need someone to cheer me up when I'm feeling low. I need someone to dress up for. I need someone to get me out of the house and invite me to a movie, a bridge game, a play, a concert, or an evening of conversation so I will know I'm alive. A widow needs everything any other normal woman needs, but she can't call up her friends and ask them for anything.

Please print this, Abby. Maybe someone who has made this offer to some widow somewhere will see it and pick up the phone and ask her what she needs. Thanks for listening.

YOUR FRIEND
THE WIDOW

DEAR FRIEND: Consider it done. If this awakens some of your sleeping friends, let me know.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I hate showers! I am 27 years old, and didn't use to feel this way, but enough is enough. Lately I have been invited to showers for girls I hardly know, some of whom I haven't seen since I got out of high school.

Opening presents in front of everyone to publicize how "generous" (or "cheap") the doners are rubs me the wrong way.

I was married (two years ago) and refused when my friends offered to have a shower for me. I had a planned elopement and didn't soak one person for a present.

I have been told that if you're invited to a shower, you must send a gift whether you come or not. How does one courteously reply to a nervy shower invitation for someone she hasn't seen in nine years?

Please answer in your column, Abby. I'm sure I'm not the only one with this problem.

SICK OF SHOWERS

DEAR SICK: There is no "law" which compels you to send a gift if you decline a shower invitation. Simply decline, and don't feel obligated to give a present to someone you "hardly know" or haven't seen in nine years.

DEAR ABBY: I am 22, single and fairly attractive. I don't have to ealborate on how difficult it is for a young lady to find a respectable, intelligent, employed, single man these days.

The problem is, I seem to have found one, but he is seeing another girl.

He has dated me a few times, but I feel so guilty about the other girl, Abby, I don't want to be the cause of their breaking up.

Should I continue to see him? Or should I drop the whole thing before it gets started?

LOST

DEAR LOST: If he wants to break off with the other girl, theirs couldn't much of a love match. Since you didn't deliberatley set out to lure him away, there is no reason to feel guilty. If you wait for a man who is not seeing anyone you could wait a long time.

* * *

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Auditions Slated for Coach House Play

Coach House Players will be holding auditions for their November musical comedy production, "Bells Are Ringing." Auditions will be held on four nights, Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 28-29, and the following week, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 4-5, at 7:30 p.m. at the Coach House, 12 Augusta Street, Kingston.

Since there will be dance production numbers and a large male cast and chorus, Coach House will need dancers, both male and female, and men who can sing, dance and act. Back stage personnel is also needed on props, painting, wardrobe, both male and female. Anyone interested in backstage work can report to Production Manager Al Curl on audition nights.

"Bells Are Ringing," book and lyrics by Betty Comden and Adolph Green with music by Jules Styne, revolves around Ella, who works for her Aunt's Telephone Answering Service. She is a telephone operator out to help her customers and regards their triumphs and disasters as her own. She finds herself involved with an actor, a song-writing dentist, and a drunken playwright. All this plus a comical involvement of bookies spells top flight entertainment. The show is complete with happy characters, snappy music, a tangle with police inspectors, bookies and mobsters.

"Bells Are Ringing," which made a star of Judy Holiday, is new to the Kingston area. Some of the hit songs in the production include: "The Party's Over," "Just in Time," and "Long Before I Knew You," and many more.

"Bells Are Ringing" will be directed by Bill Skilling.

Hints From Heloise for the Busy Woman

ON CAMPUS, B.A.

Dear Folks:

Well, it's that time again when the college students are getting ready to go off on their own. So here are some useful hints sent in by a former student.

"Instead of trying to juggle toothpaste, toothbrush, washcloth, shower cap, etc. when heading for the shower, purchase a small cleaning bucket to hold that stuff. They're great to keep by the door and even the sleepiest of us won't forget a thing.

"If you need absolute quiet for study, set your hair dryer on cool. When you put it on your head — instant privacy!

"Always ask around for used books to purchase. If none is available don't forget that you have a library card, use it! Sure saves.

"When you need extra money (and who doesn't?), check around campus for part-time jobs. Libraries need aides, profs need typists, admissions departments need guides.

"If you really want a 'happy existence' with your roommate, make it clear just what you mind or don't mind her borrowing.

"You can really put on weight eating dorm food. So take your bathroom scales. And watch it!

"If you're in a cold climate, you can save lots of vending machine money by buying soft drinks and snacks at the store and keeping them on your window sill.

"If you're without a car and on a tight budget, check the bus schedules of shopping centers that send buses to dorms. Stores within walking distance are usually high priced."

Former Student

* * *

These are ideas for dorm-living, but one day soon I'll share some ideas about apartment-living.

Gosh, Mom, doesn't it take you back to your youth and the things you tried out while strugggling to get that degree?

And bless our former student on a budget. We all love you, whoever you are.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:

Did you ever turn under blue jean cuffs and staple them to the correct length and then wear the jeans until after their first laundering?

This saves hemming and ripping out again to alter them.

'Bean' to Play Through Sunday

This week's production at Woodstock Playhouse of "The Late Christopher Bean," a suspense comedy in three acts, presents the top professional Actors Equity Company at its best with Kathleen Claypool, David Jones and Virginia Daly in leading roles.

"The Late Christopher Bean," which was first produced by Gilbert Miller, will play through August 18 and is the largest and most ambitious production at the Playhouse this season. It will be followed, during the week of August 20 through August 25, with '6 Rooms Riv Vu," a comedy in which local professionals, Joan Schulich and Rochelle Haas, will be added to the cast of theatrical veterans.

Harris Gordon, producer and owner of Woodstock Playhouse, in still another dramatic gesture, has announced that the top prices for all remaining 1974 performances have been reduced. Acoustics at the Playhouse are excellent and there are no visual obstructions between the stage and any point in the auditorium.

SENIOR VOLUNTEERS — Several members of the Retired Senior Volunteers Program (RSVP) were guests of the Women's Auxiliary of St. Francis Hospital in Poughkeepsie at a recent benefit held at the Cecilwood Theatre in Fishkill. RSVP members are active in St. Francis' volunteer services program at the hospital. Photographed during the garden social that preceded the curtain are three of the guests who attended the performance (L-R) Emma Schiller, Melinda Tampa and Ann Zeleznick. They are standing with Doris Collier, co-chairman of the Auxiliary's theatre party.

Toronto Transit Strike Talks

By United Press International

Talks in the five-day-old Toronto transit strike were expected to focus on major issues today after progress was reported Thursday in resolving less critical items.

However, no negotiations were scheduled in Montreal, where a walkout by 1,600 garage and maintenance workers has shut down the subway for 10 days.

Residents of both cities have taken up hitchhiking, bicycling and car pooling, but generally seem able to get where they need to go.

In Montreal, extra buses have been put into service by the Montreal Urban Community Transit Commission (MUCTC) to accomodate the 300,000 persons who use the subway daily.

The bus drivers have voted not to join the illegal walkout. However, the striking employes have predicted the bus service will deteriorate and eventually stop all together since many buses were not being serviced and repaired.

The maintenance employes walked out last week to protest the suspension of 73 workers who refused to work statutory holidays and to press for reopening their contract to include a cost of living clause.

In Toronto, where all bus, subway and streetcar operations are shut down, another round of talks was scheduled today between the Toronto Transit Commission (TTC) and the Amalgamated Transit Union (ATU), which represents the striking transit drivers.

A union spokesman said Thursday a number of outstanding issues have been resolved and talks on one of the most contentious issues —split shifts —would probably begin today. There was no indication when wages—the other major disputed item —would be taken up.

The drivers who now average $4.32 to $5.00 an hour, are seeking a 40 per cent wage increase over two years and the TTC has offered 19 per cent.

The strike took its toll on one of Toronto's largest department stores, Eaton's, which announced it would not stay open Thursday and Friday night as usual. Other downtown retailers also reported a reduction in business.

However, most residents seemed able to get where they wanted to go. Over 10,000 showed up at the opening of the new Toronto Zoo and over 33,000 attended a Toronto Argonaut football game Wednesday night. The Canadian National Exhibition reported about 110,000 persons attended on opening day Wednesday.

Fire Destroys Vacant House

EAST KINGSTON — A fire, apparently the work of an arsonist, destroyed a vacant house on the corner of Kukuk Lane and Route 32 in East Kingston early today.

The two-story house was fully involved when East Kingston volunteers arrived at the scene shortly after 1:15 a.m.

Two firemen, identified as Vernon Lewis and Russell Mottsey Jr., suffered minor injuries when one wall of the building collapsed as they were battling the falmes.

Some 50 firemen from the East Kingston and Ulster Hose departments were at the scene for more than two hours. Fire fighters were called back to the scene shortly before 5 a.m. when flames rekindled.

East Kingston Fire Chief Thomas Cole Jr. said the building was the scene of at least three previous fires which had weakened the structure. He said today's fire was "apparently arson."

An investigation is underway.

15 Are Killed In Train Wreck

LUTTRE, Belgium (UPI) — A Brussels-bound train jumped the track Thursday night, smashed into a bridge over a canal, and burst into flames, killing or injuring nearly all persons on board, railways officials said.

Police said most of the dead and injured were Belgians.

Hospital spokesmen said 15 persons were killed. Another 84 were injured. A railway spokesman said there were only about 100 persons in the eight-car train.

The train, traveling from Charleroi, a coal mining city in central Belgium, to Brussels, careened off the tracks as it crossed the Sambre Canal bridge, 38 miles south of Brussels Thursday evening.

The first three cars of the train crossed the bridge without mishap, but the fourth car leaped off the track, landing upside down on a small narrow road near the canal below.

The fifth car smashed into the superstructure of the bridge, wrenching doors off the car, causing the overhead electric apparatus to collapse and setting it ablaze. The remaining cars slammed into the back of each other.

Police kept a large crowd of spectators well away from the scene for fear more cars would tumble down or the sagging bridge give way.

City Youth Is Arrested

KINGSTON — Jeffrey W. Soura, 19, of Albany Avenue, Kingston was charged early today with trespass and felony possession of marijuana by city police.

Police said Soura was allegedly trespassing on Gov. Clinton Market property at the time of his arrest shortly after 2 a.m.

A quantity of alleged marijuana was found on his person, leading to the charge of sixth degree possession of a controlled substance, according to authorities.

He was scheduled to appear in city court today.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're going to form an interesting new relationship shortly with one who has many ideas that vary from yours.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Due to an unexpected shift in conditions, you're going to reverse your position on something you've been unrelenting about.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Don't lock yourself into any ideas or plans at this time that tie you down too far in advance. Allow lots of room for revisions.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Continue to give most of your attention to situations that could enhance you in a material fashion. That's where you're now luckiest.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) It's important for you to realize the course you now set for yourself will be the one you'll follow for some time to come. Get off to a good start.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) You're still in that unique position where you can gain the upper hand by not being aggressive but by relying on timing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) This is a very favorable period for you to begin new projects, particularly if they deal with modern, updated principles.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) In situations where competition is involved, you'll come out ahead if you watch for small opportunities overlooked by the other guy.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) An answer will suddenly pop into your head for a problem that appeared to have no reasonable solution.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) A new venture where you share an equal interest with another can get off to a very good start if you both pull together.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Don't be hesitant about asking advice in a situation where you lack expertise. Sound suggestions will prevent wasted effort.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) You're going to find conditions improving considerably where your work or career is concerned. However, YOU must follow through.

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

UNASKED: (Q.) Our group had a dance. I had pretty good reason to believe that some guy would take me because people like me and I have lots of friends. Well, it turned out that I wasn't asked, but some girls that everybody considers "drips" WERE asked.

Some other girls I thought were popular weren't asked, either. We all went together in a group, without dates, and danced mostly with each other. Was there anything wrong with that?—Put Down in Pennsylvania

(A.) Don't ever assume that you are popular and someone else isn't. Don't ever assume that you will be asked.

But when you aren't asked and it is possible or practical to go with another girl or girls, do that. This is better than staying at home and cutting yourself off from your friends.

You and the other unasked girls did the right thing.

FAT FACE: (Q.) I used to weigh 170. I went on a diet and lost 21 pounds. My figure is much better but my face is still fat. My friends tell me there is some kind of elastic I can put on my face to help it. Do you know where I can get it?—Disappointed in New Jersey

(A.) Some women wear an elastic band around the head to help "lift" facial muscles. But it must be worn under a wig or scarf and I don't believe this is what you are looking for.

Your best bet seems to be to lose more weight. Talk to your doctor about this, and also about facial exercises.

The Bath Coup is one of the oldest plays in bridge. Apparently it was used in whist games at the English resort of Bath as long as 200 years ago.

In whist it was designed to get an opponent to continue a suit. In contract it may have that effect, but its more general purpose is to allow declarer to retain control of a danger suit.

North and South are to be congratulated on getting to five clubs. Lots of players would try a very unsuccessful three notrump. Others an almost equally unsuccessful six clubs.

Six clubs would make against a spade lead. South would simply draw trumps; knock out the ace of diamonds and discard his jack and trey of hearts on long diamonds.

When West opened the king of hearts against five clubs it was up to South to let the king hold. If he took it right away East would get in with the ace of diamonds and give his partner two heart tricks.

When South ducked the defense was helpless. It didn't matter what they led. If they led a heart, South would make both hearts good. If they didn't, South had plenty of time to go about the business of drawing trumps and setting up dummy's diamonds.

CONGRATULATIONS — President Ford congratulates John O. Marsh Jr. after he was sworn in as counsellor to the President in a ceremony at the White House. The new counsellor's son, John O. Marsh III, looks on. Marsh is a former congressman from Virginia and was Ford's defense advisor when Ford was vice president. (UPI TELEPHOTO)

Ford Takes Economic Initiative

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford has taken the economic initiative by vetoing two bills as inflationary and threatening to veto a third, while Congress moves quickly to give him the inflation-monitoring task force he wants.

Both the House and Senate Banking Committees quickly approved Ford's request for the new "jawboning" agency Thursday, and both houses are tentatively scheduled to consider the bill Monday.

The President vetoed a bill Thursday to spend $47 million on animal research programs, saying it was inflationary. His first veto, for the same reason, was against pay increases for U.S. marshals.

Ford has also threatened to veto a $20 billion mass transportation bill unless it is cut almost in half. Liberals have offered a $15 billion compromise, but Ford has not indicated whether he will accept it.

Also coming up for his approval or veto are the major appropriations bills, on which Congress is still working.

Many members of Congress are skeptical about Ford's proposed task force, but say it should be approved because Ford wants it and that even if it does no good, it would not do any harm either.

The vote in the House Banking Committee was 27 to 7, but no one spoke in favor of it during a 50-minute meeting.

The House is expected to rubber-stamp Ford's request to set up a monitoring agency of top presidential advisers and Cabinet members to coordinate the administration's anti-inflation fight.

Passage by the Senate may not be so easy as by the House.

Sen. Adlai Stevenson, D-Ill., and other liberals want to strengthen the bill in varying ways.

The Stevenson amendments were defeated in committee, but he indicated he would try on the Senate floor to give the task force subpoena power and authority to delay price or wage increases 45 days, with an additional 45-day delay if necessary while it gathers evidence and holds hearings on the increase.

The task force would not have the power to permanently control wages and prices.

Industry would be required to keep certain records and to make specific reports. The task force would be empowered to subpoena records if necessary.

Ford asked for $1 million to run the task force, but the Stevenson bill would give him $5 million.

Ford's top economists have repeatedly said they do not want any power to subpoena or to delay wage and price increases. They say the agency should be able to accomplish its purpose through publicity.

They also do not want the country to get the impression the Ford administration is even thinking about re-imposing wage and price controls.

"Business and labor are sick of being bounced in and out of mandatory controls," said Kenneth Rush, Ford's economic coordinator, at Senate hearings Thursday.

Soviet Trade Accord Looms

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Ford Thursday moved closer to achieving one foreign policy success that eluded former President Nixon —better trade relations with the Soviet Union and settlement of the Jewish emigration question.

It would come through a compromise with members of Congress, led by Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., who insisted that the Russians change their emigration policy toward Jews before Congress would grant the most-favored-nation status necessary for improving trade.

The Russians have been trying to fight a wave of Jewish emigrants, many of them well educated and leaders in scientific and cultural fields, who wish to leave the U.S.S.R.

The Soviets contended it is an internal problem, a point made earlier this year by Nixon, Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger and Senate Foreign Relations Committee Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark.

Jackson and other lawmakers have said no nation that oppresses a minority should receive special treatment from the United States. Jackson said he and his colleagues were seeking "realistic and free movement of Soviet Jews without interfering blatantly in the Soviets' internal policies."

The reasons behind the change so far are unknown. Ambassador Anatoly Dobrynin met Ford in the Oval Office on Wednesday.

On Thursday, according to Jackson, the President told him at a breakfast meeting there was "significant Russian movement." Jackson said he would rewrite his amendment to permit the Soviet Union to get special trade credits and treatment.

He was not specific, but indicated that it would probably give the President some discretionary authority to decide if normal trade relations and credit would be in the national interest so long as he found Soviet Jews were being allowed to leave without harassment.

Rocky Leads the Field

DETROIT (UPI) — Former New York Gov. Nelson Rockefeller is by far the leading candidate to serve as vice president in the Gerald Ford administration, according to the Detroit Free Press.

The paper reported today that close advisors of Ford have admitted to the front-running position of Rockefeller, but added that the President has given no indication he has made up his mind yet.

Ford indicated Thursday that announcement of a vice president will not be forthcoming for at least a week because of the situation in Cyprus and other business.

The Free Press said one sign that indicates Ford is likely to go with Rockefeller is the "sudden drop in the stock" of the other candidates that were prominently mentioned as late as a week ago.

The paper said one advisor called the chances of Ford's naming either Republican National Chairman George Bush or Sen. Howard Baker "possible, but unlikely."

Bush, Baker and other young Republicans were at a disadvantage in the vice presidential derby because of their youth and future presidential aspirations, according to the Free Press.

It said Rockefeller, who is 66, would have to be the favorite because he would be too old to lay claim to the 1980 Republican presidential nomination.

The paper said Ford has been told by advisors thtat Rockefeller can give the administration some of the things Ford does not have, such as administrative expertise, experience with economic and budget problems and an international reputation of strength and experience.

Winter Daylight Repeal

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate has voted to end year-round daylight saving time and to authorize a $20 billion, 10-year, research and development program for energy self-sufficiency in the United States.

The repeal of winter daylight saving time passed on voice vote as an amendment to a larger energy bill passed 78 to 0 Thursday. The change back to standard time was sponsored by Sen. Robert Dole, R-Kan. It would exempt November, December, January and February from summer time.

The research and development program for non-nuclear energy alternatives was also added as an amendment to the Energy Reorganization Act under sponsorship of Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-ash.

Final action on the entire bill is pending.

Jackson's plan was unanimously approved by the Senate as a separate bill in December, but got bogged down in the House in a jurisdictional dispute among committees.

The amendment would authorize $1.3 billion for fiscal 1976 but would commit Congress to funding a minimum of $20 billion in the next decade for the program.

The main bill is designed to consolidate the government's fragmented energy research and development programs under one agency, the Energy Research and Development Administration.

'Anniversary' In Belfast

BELFAST (UPI) — The British army today began its sixth year of combating Roman Catholic and Protestant violence in Northern Ireland with fears the anniversary might be marked with new attacks.

"Anniversaries tend to be well remembered in Northern Ireland," an army spokesman said. "Troops have been warned to expect that the IRA will issue a particular reminder."

The British government ordered troops to Northern Ireland Aug. 15, 1969, to separate feuding Catholic and Protestant communities.

The Irish Republican Army afterward launched a campaign to free Protestant-dominated Northern Ireland from British rule and unite it with the Catholic Republic of Ireland in the south.

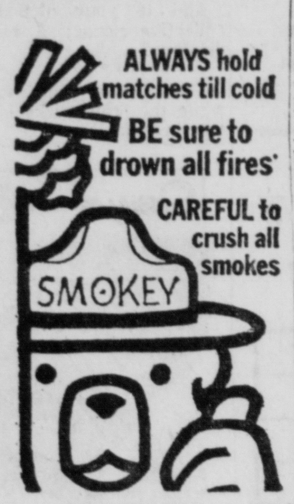

The army said it currently has 15,000 men in the six counties of the Ulster province, about 10 per cent of total British army land strength.

The death toll from five years of bombs and bullets was 1,062, with 223 of the victims British soldiers, the spokesman said. He said 1,630 soldiers were injured.

Police said they found a 60-year-old man critically wounded by two bullets in a Belfast street late Thursday. They said neighbors reported hearing eight shots fired.

An army spokesman said gunmen firing from the Irish Republic pumped 25 high velocity bullets across the border at Crossmaglen, 40 miles southwest of Belfast. The army said troops fired back but reported no casualties.

A land mine planted by the provisional wing of the IRA killed two British soldiers near Crossmaglen earlier this week.
